CONFERENCE MARKS TIME ON STABILITY

French Thought Issue Settled, but Americans and the English Deny Any Agreement Was Made as Reported.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 16.—A memorandum prepared today by Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, German Minister of Economics, for the Economic Committee of the World Economic Conference, said there were two possible ways of increasing Germany's capacity to meet its international debts—first, by giving Germany an African empire where large public work schemes could be carried through; or, second, by opening new territories "to those people which has not enough space in which to live."

Dr. Hugenberg took the opportunity presented by the Conference to place officially before the world for the first time Germany's request for colonies.

German View of Situation.

The memorandum set forth the German views of the world situation and said that Germany was "at the head of the battle against the complete destruction of the Occident" and if Germany "perishes all other peoples will perish with her."

The memorandum, largely a plea for debt alleviation, was submitted to the Conference as negotiations proceeded over the German memorandum which halts virtually all Germany's foreign debt payments.

Re-establishments of national economy is the first essential of recovery," it read, "and this is possible only if international debts are equitably regulated."

"We Germans," the 10-page memorandum said, "are the poor devils and we have nothing more to lose."

Dr. Hugenberg took a direct slap at "political loans" citing French credits granted in the Balkans. These are a great injury against economy," he said. "To pay these debts is an erroneous as to make them."

On Stabilization Issue.

The economic conference, after meetings of its Monetary and Economic Committees, decided today virtually to mark time on major problems over the week-end pending definite word on Washington's attitude toward currency stabilization.

The gold standard countries, it was said, in French quarters, will do nothing until approval of a stabilization plan has been received from Washington. French delegates expressed disappointment over Secretary of the Treasury Woodin's announcement that the United States Government had not agreed to any stabilization proposals.

The French indicated they had sought the stabilization question and been settled when they concluded the chairmanship of the Monetary Committee by James M. Cox of the United States delegation. The French had held out for a monetary chairman from a gold standard country. When the French yielded and Cox was elected, there were reports that the American delegation had agreed to undertake temporary de facto stabilization of the dollar at between $4.00 to $4.07 to the English pound. However, Woodin in Washington last night said: "The discussions in London on stabilization must be kept secret, only, and any agreement in this subject must be reached in Washington or elsewhere."

Bankers' Meeting in London.

Meantime, British, French and American bankers are meeting in London to study the problem, and it was reliably stated that they were expected to reach a decision in two or three days.

With the economic conference facing this fresh impasse, the American delegates stood pat on their informal denial that any agreement on stabilization had been reached and they were awaiting instructions from Washington. From British official sources also came a denial that an agreement had been reached for stabilization of the pound and dollar.

CHICAGO MAYOR ORDERS POLICEMEN NOT TO BOTHER LIQUOR SELLERS

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Mayor Edward J. Kelly has ordered police to refrain from interference with liquor sellers under penalty of being "chased to the sticks."

"Any policeman," he said, "who bothers liquor sellers, should be chased to the sticks. There is plenty of work for the police in catching criminals and hoodlums instead of shaking down some poor citizen who is trying to make a living selling liquor. The people have spoken on this matter of liquor."

G. B. S. DECLARES LONDON CONFEREES DON'T KNOW MUCH

All Men Who Have Made Mess of Own National Affairs, He Says.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, June 16.—George Bernard Shaw, who has been exceptionally quiet for Shaw—since he returned from the United States, yesterday told what he thought about the world economic conference.

"This week there is the world economic conference consisting of the heads of states of gentlemen not one of whom appears to know anything whatever about economics, even of the most elementary kind," Shaw said. "When you examine their qualifications you will find that they are all gentlemen who have made a deplorable and hopeless mess of national affairs in their own countries and have come to the geological museum—a museum of fossils—in the hope that since they cannot get their own countries out of the mess, other countries might be able to help them out of it."

"In three or four days they have broken down almost hopelessly and many of them are going home. "Some day we must take things out of their hands and try to save civilization."

32 BEER'S LEGALITY UPHELD BY KENTUCKY APPEALS COURT

New Brew Not Intoxicating, Bench Declares in Affirming Decision.

By the Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 16.—The Kentucky Court of Appeals here today that 32 per cent beer is non-intoxicating.

Judgment of Jefferson Circuit Court in a suit to test the legality of the new brew was affirmed.

The lower court in a decision in the suit of the Fall City Ice Beverage Co. against the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, held Kentuckians have a right to make, sell and ship the beer legalized by Congress. The new brew has been manufactured and sold in Kentucky since April 7 when the act of Congress went into effect.

The lower court held the beer was not intoxicating in fact. The Circuit Court said 32 per cent created a "feeling of well being" and "better morale."

PRETTY BOY FLOYD KIDNAPS SHERIFF AT BOLIVAR, MO.

Oklahoma Desperado and His Companion Seize Polk County Officer and Escape in Automobile.

CROWD OF CURIOUS LINED UP BY PAIR

Robbers Take Car Belonging to Brother of One, After Towing Own Disabled Machine to Garage.

By the Associated Press.

BOLIVAR, Mo., June 16.—Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, Oklahoma desperado, and another man identified by citizens as Adam Ricchetti kidnapped Sheriff Jack Killingsworth today in an automobile taken from Ricchetti's brother when a crowd gathered about a garage here to which they had towed their automobile for repairs.

Also brought out during his testimony was an increase on the books in the fixed assets of the Laclede Gas Light Co. from $44,850,000 in 1925 to $53,979,000 in 1926.

Under questioning of Robert E. Healy, commission's chief counsel, Munroe said the 1924 purchase of the Laclede Gas Light Co. was made by a group of interests headed by the Corporate Investment Co., whose sole assets were the $53,800,

How Money Was Supplied.

The Corporate Co. supplied $1,200,000 of the $5,850,000 purchase price, while the remainder of the money was supplied as follows: 50 per cent by the Koppers Co. of Pittsburgh, a Mellon interest; 25 per cent by the Guaranty Trust Co., and 25 per cent by Montreal interests which were identified as Sir Herbert Holt and T. B. McCauley, president of the Sun Life Co.

With the $3,800 shares of Laclede Gas Light Co. sold in 1925, the Laclede Gas & Electric Co. sold $4,700,000 of 7 per cent 10-year gold debentures which reimbursed the Guaranty Trust Co., the Koppers Co. and the Montreal interests. It sold to the Corporate Investment Co. $1,260,000 of preferred stock and then issued 200,000 shares of common stock, 40 per cent going to the three interests supplying the senior money in the original investment and 60 per cent going to the Corporate Investment Co.

The debentures of the holding company, issued originally at $95.50, later were sold to the Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh for $101.50. In 1927 the Utilities Power & Light Corporation paid $70 a share, or a total of $14,000,000 for the 200,000 shares of common. This represented the profit in the three-year period.

Explanation of Profit.

Munroe agreed the profit was made without additional investment by the original participants in organizing the Laclede Gas and Electric Co., but made this explanation.

"The Laclede Gas and Electric Co. when sold in 1927 was a very different property than when formed in 1924. We were able to do things making its earning capacity entirely different and our ability to do this enabled us to sell it at $1,000,000 profit."

"We obtained gas at 19¢ cents a thousand feet cheaper by building pipe lines to the Roxana Petroleum Corporation and to the Illinois and Michigan Pipe Line Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Laclede Gas and Electric Co. The pipe line company sold gas to the Laclede Gas Light Co. at a substantial profit—there were $1,000 a day gross profits to be divided between the Laclede Gas Light Co. and the gas and electric company."

"Were there any reductions in rates charged the public when this gas was obtained more cheaply?" Healy asked.

"I think a reduction was made but I don't know when and it had no relation to this transaction," Munroe said.

He explained the $9,000,000 increase in assets of the Laclede Gas Light Co. between 1925 and 1926 by saying:

"The company claimed a $66,000 valuation before the Public Service Commission. In 1928 the service commission gave a valuation in excess of the value carried on the books so we instructed the auditor to take the valuation as found by the commissioners and state the capital account from that point."

Healy commented that such commission findings were for rate making purposes and not for capital figures on books of account.

Story of Munroe's Profit Told in Post-Dispatch in 1927.

The story of Charles E. Munroe's huge profit in the purchase and sale of the Laclede Gas Light Co. was told fully and exclusively in the Post-Dispatch in 1927, shortly after the announcement of Munroe's sale of the property to Utilities Power and Light Corporation. It was disclosed in the Post-Dispatch stories that Munroe, formerly an executive in the Insull organization, and his associates had profited about $14,000,000.

One of Munroe's activities was the active prosecution of a rate case resulting in an increased valuation of the Laclede property by the State Public Service Commission, and later in an increase in gas rates in St. Louis.

STORE'S ELECTRIC BILL $111,938 TOO HIGH, REPORT SAYS

Referee Recommends Judgment for That Amount for Famous-Barr Against Union Electric.

BOTH PARTIES WILL FILE EXCEPTIONS

Suit Based on Purchase of Cupples Light, Heat & Power Co. Which Had Contract with Consumer.

A judgment for $111,938 against Union Electric Light & Power Co., in favor of the May Department Stores Co. (Famous-Barr), for alleged overcharges for electricity, was recommended in a referee's report filed in circuit court today.

The referee, Attorney Charles P. Williams, also recommended that the Union Electric be enjoined from hereafter assessing and collecting from the May company more than its published rates for electricity.

The judgment recommended was for overcharges found by the referee to have been collected between May 1, 1925, and Dec. 31, 1931, through the device of a corporation actually an "instrumental" of Union Electric. The referee found that the overcharge in 1931 was approximately $41,000.

What the Company Alleged.

In filing suit in 1930, through Attorney Edward J. Haffey, the May company alleged that it had been overcharged more than $400,000 and later testimony was introduced to support a claim to a refund of approximately $500,000. Both Union Electric and the May company filed exceptions to Williams' report.

The referee calculated the total overcharge for electricity at approximately $177,000, but found that Union Electric should be credited with about $65,000 for underpayment for steam heat, resulting in the net amount recommended for judgment.

The controversy grew out of the purchase by Union Electric in 1923 of the Cupples Station Light, Heat & Power Co., which company also was known as the Famous-Barr Co.

The Cupples company had installed a power plant in the basement of the Kingston Building on St. Charles street, in space leased from the Famous-Barr Co. and the Cupples company contracted to supply electricity and steam to the tenants of the Railway Exchange Building, occupied in part by the Famous-Barr Co.

Store Paid Contract Rate.

Since that time the Famous-Barr Co. has paid the contract rate for its electricity, a rate the referee found exceeded the rate charged by the Famous-Barr Co. and the Kingston Building on St. Charles street, in space leased from the Famous-Barr Co. and the Cupples company contracted to supply electricity and steam to the tenants of the Railway Exchange Building, occupied in part by the Famous-Barr Co.

PRESIDENT THANKS MEMBERS FOR WORK

Night of Tension in Senate;
Galleries Filled; Sharp Passages Between Senators, Verbal Love Feast in the House.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 16.—The special session of Congress, having completed passage of the Roosevelt legislative program designed for national recovery, adjourned at 1:21 o'clock this morning.

Its last act was acceptance of the President's terms on expenditures for veterans, thus safeguarding his economy program which he expects to balance the ordinary budget.

The Senate fought to the last the same fight that had held up adjournment since last Saturday, but blocked by refusal of the House to accept an enlargement of spending, it passed it, 45 to 36, to take the compromise offered by the administration, passed the $650,000 independent offices appropriation bill and adjourned.

The House, after lingering idly through the night, quit too, after cheering and yelling applause at a last minute letter from the President. In it Mr. Roosevelt thanked Senators and Representatives "for making possible, on the broad average, a more stable and when necessary, a more progressive cooperation between the legislative and executive branches of the United States Government than has been witnessed by the American people in many a long year."

A Record on the Books.
That sentence covered a record in which every major request by the President, some for power greater than ever given an executive in peace time and perhaps in war, had been granted. The Congress had been most exclusively a record of its own making. It had done its work with unexampled speed, adjourning within a week of the date on which he proposed that it go home, and that despite a grueling fight on the issue that has smashed all economy programs in the past—funds for veterans in.

This last fight brought harsh words to the Senate even in the closing hour. The debate had been concluded, the compromise accepted, and the last bill passed when Senator Glass, of Virginia, took the floor to denounce what he called a "wanton and unprovoked attack" on himself by Bronson Cutting, Independent Republican of New Mexico, who earlier in the night had given Glass a tongue lashing for his part in the final conference agreement on the veterans' issue.

Closed Until January.
When Glass was done, adjournment was voted and the Capitol chambers of debate were closed until the Congress for the first time in history, to meet next in January. Under the new amendment ("lame duck") amendment to the Constitution, both houses are on a six month's vacation in sine die adjournment. That amendment provides that the new Congress shall convene on Jan. 3 instead of the first Monday in December as in the past.

Many of the members of Congress already are homeward bound today. Others remain here to take part in governmental conferences for execution of the bills they have passed.

Adjournment found tedium only a few tasks. The administration bill to make possible naming of a mainland Governor for Hawaii died under the threat of a filibuster by Senator Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan. Senate resolutions to block the President's $25,000 saving program for bureau reorganization were left to die unconsidered by the House.

Relief for municipalities in default on their securities also was lost through failure of the Senate to pass on the bill. Sidetracked earlier had been the President's request for power to impose embargoes on arms and munition shipments to warring countries.

Long Evening Tension in Senate With Glass Fired.

Packed galleries and a crowded floor, with members of the House lined up against the rear wall and sitting around on the floor, looked on interestedly in the Senate last evening. Among Senators the tension was conspicuous from the moment the night session began.

Soon after 7 p. m. Senator Byrd (Dem.), South Carolina, presented formally the conference report on the independent offices bill carrying the administration veterans' provision. Immediately debate began, with a continuation from the back of the chamber and the galleries.

After Byrd told Cutting the conference was a "free conference,"

After landing at Plymouth. From left: SENATOR KEY PITTMAN of Nevada, SECRETARY OF STATE CORDELL HULL, CONGRESSMAN SAM MCREYNOLDS of Tennessee and RALPH MORISON of Texas. The two other American delegates, James M. Cox of Ohio and Senator James Couzens of Michigan joined the party later.

Stevens criticised the agreement on veterans' terms in sharp terms.

"This is the same language that the Senate has characterized as inadequate and the same language that the Senate rejected by 53 to 30. The agreement should be strengthened in any respect at all. It is a betrayal of the veterans of this country because the protection we promised them has been entirely abandoned. There is not one safeguard against ruthless cuts for the veterans of our wars in this proposition.

"The veterans are protected against a cut in the rate of compensation, but the amount being paid is not protectable in the service connected cases under this compromise. Under the compromise $33,000 presumptive service connected helpless, crippled soldiers will went back by reviewing the rates for the enormous purpose of being removed from the rolls. If we agree to this conference report we are going to make beggars of our heroes."

Clark Asked a Question.

Clark (Dem.), Missouri, asked Stevens if he knew of "any way in which one body of Congress, standing alone, can impose its will on the other house and the President." Stevens replied that, when Congress passed the economy law, "it conferred all the legislative power it possessed on the Executive" so far as veterans were concerned. "That power will not be recalled except by a two-thirds vote, and it will never be recalled until the American people rise up in their might," Stevens said.

After Black (Dem.), Alabama, had asserted he was certain the President would approve regulations to utilize all available hospitals for veterans, Clark and Wheeler (Dem., Montana, assumed administration of the Veterans' Bureau.

"With the President being advised by the present authorities in the Veterans' Bureau," Clark said, "a permissive clause in any of these bills is not worth the paper it's written on." Declaring he was going to vote against the report, Wheeler said the Bureau had been "cruel and inhuman."

Of his own rejected amendment to the present authorities in the Veterans' Bureau, Clark said, "the world condition that they 'do not dare' to let the conference fail, Senator Hull said in an address last night.

He indicated that the opening speeches at the conference were to a considerable extent, for home consumption and that the real world would come in committee.

He found an argument of success, however, in the agreement of practically all delegations to try to complete the work in six or eight weeks.

It was announced late that Norman Davis, American representative at the disarmament conference and one of the organizers of the economic parley, was arriving in London tonight to confer with the American delegation. Davis was to have returned direct to Washington from the continent to consult with President Roosevelt, but changed his plans so as to proceed via London, giving him an opportunity for conversations here.

Senators who voted for the Cutting-Stevens substitute Wednesday night but who switch to the administration proposal were Black, Alabama; Brooks, N. H.; Hampshire; Bullock, Ohio; Caraway, Arkansas; Lonergan, Connecticut; McAdoo, Illinois; Reynolds, North Carolina; Thomas, Oklahoma, and Walsh, Massachusetts.

McCarren (Dem., Nevada, and Norris (Rep., Nebraska, had a general pair and their positions were not announced. It was announced that both Senators Hale (Rep., South Dakota, and Patterson (Rep., Missouri, would have voted no if present.

H.; Hampshire; Bullock, Ohio; Caraway, Arkansas; Lonergan, Connecticut; McAdoo, Illinois; Reynolds, North Carolina; Thomas, Oklahoma, and Walsh, Massachusetts.

The House meanwhile had held a tedious round-table discussion of the session about to end. Bouquets were being passed freely. Representative Cox (Dem., Georgia, complimented the President, the Speaker, the Republicans in the House, new members, the Republinomic leaders and the Democratic leader. Representative Snell of New York, the Republican leader, praised the Speaker, the majority leader, Representative Byrd (Dem., Tennessee) and the minority leader, Representative O'Connor (Dem., New York, spoke highly of everybody. The House wound up with yells of applause for the President's praise of their performance.

er profit to the Union company under its own tariff rates. Dolph Building, which was controlled by the May company, was switched for fear of bringing about a possible demand on part of the May company for best service by the Union company instead of under the service contract which was thought to be more profitable.

This meant that in case of smaller customers Union Electric's published rates were more profitable than the Cupples' contract rates, but in case of the two large consumers, Famous-Barr and the Railway Exchange Building, Cupples' contract rates were more profitable.

The Referees found that "at present the acquisition of stock by Union company has a new electric customers for any of its plants," and that officers of Union Electric became the office of the Cupples' Station company. He found that Cupples company was quartered in Union Electric's quarters for which it paid no rent, that the superintendent of Union company's substation department took charge of the substation which had been erected by Union company in the Railway Exchange plant, and that the manager of Union company's steam service department took charge of the Cupples' company's steam and electric service plants.

"None of the officers of Cupples company receive any compensation as officers or employees of defendant Cupples company," the Referees said. "Their salaries are paid them by Union company, nor is a part of such salary paid to them as officers or employees of defendant Cupples company, nor is any part of such salary charged the late President. The board decided that Desloge, who died in December, 1929, had bequeathed his entire estate to his widow and two sons in few simple and had merely expressed a wish that his sons should make certain charitable gifts. The fact that Desloge granted his sons discretionary powers to make charitable gifts instead of specifically naming St. Louis University as a beneficiary will cost the estate several hundred thousand dollars.

The tax on which the board's decision is concerned is assessable against the estate, not against the university.

He found that under the circumstances, "Cupples became and is instrumentality and adjunct manifestation of the Union company," and that the "Union company cannot claim the protection of the contract. It did not live to its requirements and in effect used it as a mere smoke screen for its own operations."

Associated with Haid in the prosecution of the suit was the law firm of Jones, Hocker, Sullivan & Gladney.

The Court will set a time for hearing on the exceptions filed by both parties and then may approve or disapprove the report. The probably will be appealed.

EXACT AMOUNT. NOT DETERMINED

Payment Will Amount to Several Hundred Thousand Dollars — $382,702 Deduction Claimed.

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
201-205 Kellogg Bldg.

WASHINGTON, June 15. — The Federal Board of Tax Appeals, in a decision announced yesterday, held that the charitable gift of $1,000,000 to St. Louis University for a hospital by the sons of the late Firm Desloge of St. Louis could not be deducted from the gross estate subject to Federal estate tax.

The Referees found that Desloge, who died in December, 1929, had bequeathed his entire estate to his widow and two sons in few simple and had merely expressed a wish that his sons should make certain charitable gifts. The fact that Desloge granted his sons discretionary powers to make charitable gifts instead of specifically naming St. Louis University as a beneficiary will cost the estate several hundred thousand dollars.

The tax on which the board's decision is concerned is assessable against the estate, not against the university.

The exact amount, the attorney for the Bureau of Internal Revenue said today, could not be computed until the entire decision had been studied. The amount involved in the entire appeal, which claimed deductions on two other items, was $382,702.

Sons Made Donation.

In his will Desloge said that he had not included charitable gifts because he preferred that his heirs, Francis V. and Joseph, should make such donations "within their sole discretion as shall seem to them to be best."

In April, 1930, the two sons received the approval of the Probate Court in St. Louis to give $1,000,000 to St. Louis University to be used in erecting the Firm Desloge Hospital, at Grand Boulevard and Vista Avenue, in memory of their father. Subsequently they claimed a deduction in the estate tax return for this amount. After the deduction was disallowed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the sons appealed to the Federal Board of Tax Appeals, contending that their father had intended that they make such charitable gifts.

The board in its decision yesterday stated that a trust had not been created by the Desloge will and that therefore the deduction could not be made under the Federal estate tax laws and court decisions "though the results in particular situations appear harsh."

Justice Taft Quoted.

"Undoubtedly," said the decision, "Congress by the particular provision under discussion intended to favor gifts for charitable objects, but it did not stand by its word," was decided on the conclusion of a four-day meeting attended by representatives of foreign bankers' committees, a German committee and the Reichsbank.

A communiqué signed by Albert H. Wiggin, New York banker, as chairman, says that payment of installments, due and payable to foreign bank creditors under the guarantee of the Deutsche Gold Diskontbank on or after Oct. 1, 1933, and before Feb. 28, 1934, shall be suspended until the latter date.

Government Approval Necessary.

This suggestion will be referred to the bank for international settlements before it can be accepted. The entire agreement is subject to the approval of the Hitler Government.

Bondholders said that Germany should pay everything owed, but Dr. Schacht demurred and the Dawes loan was given priority.

A temporary postponement of all repayments of capital under the so-called standard agreement, which was decided on the conclusion of a four-day meeting attended by representatives of foreign bankers' committees, a German committee and the Reichsbank.

The syndicate signed by Albert H. Wiggin, New York banker, as chairman, says that payment of installments, due and payable to foreign bank creditors under the guarantee of the Deutsche Gold Diskontbank on or after Oct. 1, 1933, and before Feb. 28, 1934, shall be suspended until the latter date.

Interest Rate Cut Sought.

The same qua non of deductibility is that the gift should pass by will, not within the discretion of anybody, but certainly and absolutely to one or more of the described corporations or through trustees, for the named purpose."

The board pointed out that it was conceded that the will created no trust and named no trustees. The will, the board held, was unambiguous and therefore oral testimony concerning what was in Desloge's mind when he made the will was dismissible.

Testament for Family.

The will, as a whole, the board said, "shows clearly that the testator's primary intention was to provide amply for his wife and two sons to the full extent of his estate if that were necessary under the conditions existing at the time of his death, but by no means to the testator."

Under the postponement, certain repayments of capital by the Gold Diskontbank for the interest remains unaffected, but at the request of the Reichsbank president, a consultative committee will advise the respective creditors committees to recommend reduction in the rates of interest.

It is expected the improvement will be completed within 27 days, and prediction at an estimated rate of 350,000 barrels a year will be started. Purchase of the property of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. Julius R. Van Raalte represented the syndicate.

Interest Rate Cut Sought.

The liability of the Gold Diskontbank for the interest remains unaffected, but at the request of the Reichsbank president, a consultative committee will advise the respective creditors committees to recommend reduction in the rates of interest.

The German temporary transfer agreement at the request of Dr. Schacht, the London meeting, of which the communiqué is the result, were held to bring that agreement into line.

Under the postponement, certain repayments of capital by the Gold Diskontbank, amounting to about 75,000,000 marks ($21,000,000), which should be made before Feb. 28, 1934, will be put off until that date.

G. O. P. Deficit.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 16. — The Republican National Committee reported to Congress today a deficit of $208,044 for the second quarter of this year. The statement filed with South Trimble, Clerk of the House, by J. R. Nutt, treasurer, said there was a balance of $8482 in the treasury, but of this $6064 was impounded in a bank.

ASSESSOR COALE HOPE TO DOUBLE PERSONAL TAXES

Instructs District Deputies to Use Salesmanship to Get People to Raise Valuations.

A campaign to double the assessed valuation of personal property of St. Louisians in order to increase revenue has been ordered by Assessor Coale. He believes personal property owners have been accustomed to fixing valuations too low generally and that many items which should have been included in returns have been omitted.

The assessment on personal property in the city as of June 1, 1932, for 1933 taxes payable next autumn, is $96,761,318. This would yield, if paid in full, $2,223,873 in taxes for the city, State and schools, of which the city's share for general purposes would be $1,292,754. Doubling the assessment would, of course,

Annual blanks for personal property are being distributed now by the District Assessors. Coale said he did not contemplate drastic action to force increases in valuations by citizens. Instead he has instructed the district officials to use salesmanship to induce property owners to make fair returns.

Method of Assessing.

The Assessor must accept the citizen's sworn return as to the worth of personal property, unless he is able to prove the return is false. To produce such proof a hearing must be held before the City Board of Equalization, which meets for four weeks annually in March and April. The Assessor's office, however, has invoked this authority. In case of failure to make a return, the Assessor assesses a citizen's personal property at what he thinks it is worth and doubles this figure.

In delivering the return blanks, the District Assessors note on stubs their impressions of the probable value of personal property in a home or place of business. When the property owner files the return at the Assessor's office he is supposed to call on the proper District Assessor for this will provide the opportunity for seeking increases in the returns.

"People have gotten into the habit of valuing their furniture at, say, $100 and declaring they have no money in the bank because there has been no serious effort to get them to do otherwise," Assessor Coale declared. "This time, if a man values his furniture at $100, the District Assessor may say, 'Surely your things are worth more than that; why not raise this to, say, $200?' I don't think most persons will object."

"The Assessor's office is supposed to call on the proper District Assessor for this will provide the opportunity for seeking increases in the returns."

Assessor Coale said that the act violates constitutional provisions requiring uniformity of taxation, taxation of property in proportion to its value, and prohibiting passage of any law releasing obligations to the State, were overruled by the court, which held the act met all constitutional requirements.

"I don't believe we have been given returns we should on estates of deceased persons. It has been the custom of many administrators to put estates into nontaxable property between the date of death and June 1, the date of assessment. I will ask the next Legislature to make the date of death the date of assessment of estates."

Tax on Automobiles.

Attention has been called frequently to the fact that many more automobiles are licensed in St. Louis than are covered by tax returns. To correct this, Coale will begin the collection of a uniform rule and system of the State—rule and system which No. 80 would follow—and are inconsistent with the latter, which is a general act and covers the whole subject matter of said special acts.

He ruled that No. 80, being a valid act, suspended the effectiveness and operation of Nos. 110 and 115 during the limited period of one year that No. 80 will be effective. He said that during this time he will follow any other statutory provisions which may be in conflict with provisions of No. 80, and particularly the statutory commission of the city collector for collection of the delinquent taxes involved, were suspended.

The other six judges concurred.

No Provision for Expenses of Koel's Office.

The Supreme Court opinion was also as to the means of paying expenses of Collector Koel's office until October, when 1933 tax bills will begin to be paid. At the present time of year ordinarily the office expenses are met from the Collector's 2 per cent commission on delinquent taxes. To avoid a shutdown of the office, the city recently advanced Koel $15,000 to run the office temporarily.

All delinquent taxes were to be paid up by June 30 under No. 80, the city, Board of Education and State would lose about $750,000 in penalties and the Collector would lose about $100,000 in commission, Koel estimated.

Koel had been refusing to accept delinquent taxes, except for the State, without pay.

At the last compilation, Feb. 28, there were $15,882,442 in delinquent taxes here. At that time the pen-

JEFFERSON CITY, June 16.—A 10-cent round trip street car fare for certain non-rush hours is to be tried out in St. Louis the week of July 10, with approval of the State Public Service Commission.

This was agreed upon at a conference here today of representatives of the City of St. Louis with the Commission and Receiver Kiel, General Manager Greenland, and Attorney Francis of the Public Service Commission.

The new fare will be effective between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The rider will deposit 10 cents in the fare box and, upon request, will be given a ticket good for the return trip or another ride elsewhere, before 4 p. m. of the same day.

It was virtually agreed upon at a conference in St. Louis several days ago that this experimental rate would be tried to see if additional riders would be attracted to the street car system. Kiel thought a week's trial would be sufficient to show the possibilities.

City Counselor Hay, Associate City Counselor Ferris and M. H. Doyne and Robert Boyles, consulting engineers, represented the city at the conference.

A conference also was held today on St. Louis gas rates, with President Goaling and other executives of Laclede Gas Light Co. present. The city representatives suggested a 5 per cent prompt payment discount be allowed from monthly bills computed on present rates. An earlier suggestion was for a 5 per cent discount in domestic rates.

No agreement was reached and the city and company groups are to continue the conference in St. Louis, returning to the commission in two weeks.

$5,000,000 IN STATE ROAD
BONDS SOLD TO SYNDICATE
Group Headed by Guaranty Trust
Co. of New York Is High Bidder.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 16.—A syndicate of 10 banks and security firms headed by the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, with an offer of $5,071,555, was high bidder at a $5,000,000 road bond sale held yesterday by the State Board of Fund Commissioners. Sixty syndicates submitted bids, ranging from $4,992,995 to the high bid.

Three bids for less than the full amount of the bonds were received, all being for $50,000 or less. Each was lower than the high bid by the syndicate. It was the first road bond sale at which bids were received in amounts as low as $1000.

The successful syndicate's bid was 101,431 and the low bid 99.85.

State officials said after the letting that they regarded the high bid as "very good."

'Tub' Becker, Ward Leader Of the Old School, Dies

Injuries From Fall Down Steps Fatal—Began Carreer in '90s—Funeral at 2 P. M. Monday.

Louis (Tub) Becker, South Side Republican politician and city jobholder since the days of storm buggies and Filley hats, died last night in St. Anthony's Hospital, from a heart fracture caused by a fall down the basement stairs at his home, 2003 Russell boulevard, 10 days before. He was 70 years old.

The fatal accident occurred the evening of June 5, when the heel of Becker's shoe caught on a top stair and he fell to the concrete floor. His sister, Mrs. Augusta Keppler of 2127 Russell, was in the house at the time. A coroner's jury today rendered a verdict of accident.

He was a widower, and is survived by his sister and three brothers, Charles, Edward and Henry Becker. The funeral will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Moydell undertaking establishment, Mississippi and Allen avenues, followed by cremation at Missouri Cemetery.

The nickname of "Tub," about which various stories were told, befit the round, stocky figure which was Becker's even as a young man. He was a cigar maker and cigar salesman in the '90s, and drove about a circuit of groceries and saloons in a buggy which bore the sign, "Tub's Tens," his trade-mark brand.

THOUSANDS SEE POPE IN CORPUS CHRISTI RITE

Pius XI First Pontiff Since 1870 to Take Part in Procession.

By the Associated Press.
VATICAN CITY, June 16.—Pope Pius XI, carrying the sacrament in a golden monstrance, came out of St. Peter's late yesterday afternoon in a Corpus Christi procession.

Several hundred thousand persons in St. Peter's Square and the adjoining Plaza Rusticucci saw the procession.

Pius was the first Pope since the 1870 fall of Rome to continue this traditional Corpus Christi procession. The ceremony was one of the events by which Pope Pius is commemorating the Holy Year.

At dusk, was falling, the Pope, seated in a portable throne on the shoulders of 12 attendants, slowly encircled St. Peter's Square, following the curve of the Bernini Colonnade and always keeping within Vatican City territory. Before him marched several thousand seminarians, including those of the American College, Abbots, Bishops, Archbishops, Cardinals, Swiss Guards and the Noble Guards.

He sat on the edge of the throne chair, but his heavy robes were so draped as to give him the appearance of kneeling. The gold monstrance leaned on the upright of a prie-dieu before him, and the Pontiff leaned forward to hold the base of it tightly. He kept his eyes fixed on the Host gleaming within the little crystal windows of the monstrance. He did not glance at the crowd or bless them as he was carried along.

When he had encircled the square he mounted a portable altar at the top of the steps leading to the main doors of St. Peter's and, lifting up the monstrance, blessed the crowd before him, the city of Rome and the world.

St. Peter's Square presented a magnificent background for the procession.

STATE SELLS BANK BONDS SECURING $700,000 DEPOSIT

Obtains $6546 More Than Amount of Account for Bulk of Lafayette-South Side Collateral.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 16.—
Government bonds posted as collateral for a State deposit of $700,000 in the Lafayette-South Side Bank & Trust Co. of St. Louis, which has not reopened since the banking holiday last March, were sold yesterday by State Treasurer R. R. Nacy, to liquidate the State's account.

The bank had posted $745,000 of United States Fourth Liberty Loan bonds. Of this amount Nacy said bonds with a par value of $681,000 for $706,546, to C. F. Childs Co. of Chicago, at the market quotation for the bonds.

The sale price will be applied to liquidation of the State deposit and the balance in cash, after deduction of certain interest and expense charges, will be returned to the bank, together with the $64,000 in bonds which were not sold.

Nacy had planned to sell yesterday the collateral posted by the South Side National Bank of St. Louis, controlled by the Lafayette-South Side Bank & Trust Co. for a State deposit of $280,000, but the bank had not reopened since the banking holiday. The bank has a total of $237,000 in municipal bonds and other securities posted with the State.

Officer Says Bank Arranged for Sale of Bonds.

An officer of the Lafayette-South Side Bank & Trust Co. said the State had not set any exact date for the sale but had left it to the bank to dispose of the bonds to the best advantage. The sale was arranged a few days ago, he said, when the market price of the securities had appreciated several points. The bank also is negotiating, he said, for the sale of collateral which secures the State deposit in South Side National Bank.

COUPONS FOR OPERA SEATS SOLD WITH RAILWAY TICKETS

Plots of Municipal Theater Placed With All Missouri Pacific Agents.

Railroad tickets with coupons that entitle purchasers to seats at the Municipal Opera have been placed on sale at all stations of the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Plots of the Municipal Theater have been issued to all agents, and purchasers of tickets may choose the approximate seat locations desired. On presentation of the coupons at the Municipal Theater box office, the railroad passengers receive the seat reserved for them by telegraph. The railroad is also allowing stopovers on round-trip tickets and transportation through St. Louis so passengers may attend the opera.

The performance of "Florodora" last night drew 9300 persons, the largest attendance of the week. Special blocks of seats tonight have been reserved by the Art Extension Group of the University of Illinois, the Young Men's Division of the Chamber of Commerce and the Real Estate Exchange.

3 FIREFMEN HURT FIGHTING $250 VACANT WAREHOUSE FIRE

Two Fall Through Roof of Loading Platform at 1219 Gratiot; Two Alarms.

Three firemen were hurt while fighting a $250 fire in an unoccupied five-story warehouse at 1219 Gratiot street last night.

Ernest Gottfried, Engine Co. No. 15, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg when struck by a beam which fell out of control. Gus Zinselmyer and Harry Abels, Engine Co. No. 16, fell through the roof of a loading platform. Zinselmyer suffered fractured ribs and a cut over the eye. Abels was bruised and shaken.

Two alarms were turned in because of the proximity of 125,000 gallons of gasoline in storage tanks at the Sinclair Refining Co. The fire is thought to have started from crossed wires in the basement of the warehouse.

FREED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

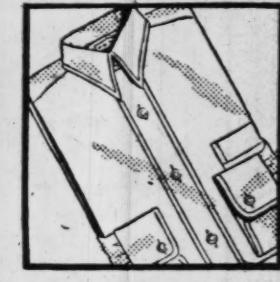

Jose Cruz and Philip Riveras, Filipinos living 3331 Olive street, were acquitted of a charge of robbery under the Henry law by a jury in Circuit Judge Bauer's court yesterday. Jose Fat, Chinese merchant of 25 S. Eighth street, and his clerk testified the two purchased cigars Sept. 19, last, then robbed Fat of $40, threatening him with a pistol. Cruz testified he was cleaned up by Fat in a Chinese gambling game. He said he lost $65, and grabbed $40 of his money from the hand of the Chinese. He denied use of a pistol. Fat denied any gambling took place in his store.

Youth Drowned in Quarry. Joseph Frank, 15-year-old Negro, 514 Elm street, Webster Groves, was drowned last night in an abandoned quarry at Missouri Pacific tracks and Summit avenue. Webster Groves, when he stepped into deep water while wading with two companions. His body was recovered by Deputy Sheriff Pleimann, a professional diver, at a 20-foot depth after a 15-minute search.

H. PAUL BESTOR QUITS
AS FARM LOAN CHIEF

St. Louis Will Become an Executive of the Prudential Insurance Co.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 16. — H. Paul Bestor of St. Louis has resigned as general Farm Loan Commissioner and will become an executive in the investment division of the Prudential Insurance Co., participating in the direction of its American and Canadian farm loans.

Bestor will continue in an advisory capacity with the Farm Credit Administration until Aug. 31. His term had two years to run but recent legislation made him subject to removal at the discretion of the president.

Albert S. Goss of Seattle, master of the Washington State granite since 1922, today was appointed Federal Land Bank Commissioner until a year ago.

New York Central Railroad train who was shot by train robbers near Bellefontaine, O., in January, 1931, took a voluntary non-suit yesterday in his action for $50,000 damages brought against the railroad and the Pullman company.

Federal law would indicate that the defendants that being shot by robbers is not a transportation risk. Nelson had contended the defendants were negligent in failing to protect him from robbers.

REWARD INCREASED TO $1000 FOR SLAYER OF MOTORMAN

Street Car Union Adds $500 for Information About Robber Who Killed James Cosgriff.

An additional $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the robber who shot and killed James Cosgriff, street car conductor, was offered yesterday by the street car men's union, through its president, H. M. Nelson.

The Public Service Co. offered a $500 reward the day after Cosgriff was shot. Cosgriff, who lived at 1043 Irma avenue, University City, was wounded in a holdup on a University car. Laurel avenue, the night of May 8, and died May 27 at St. John's Hospital. Police Lieutenant James F. Smythe was also wounded by the robber.

INDUSTRIES HERE PICK COMMITTEE ON RECOVERY ACT

Representatives of Each Branch Meet to Chart Course Under New Federal Legislation.

Membership of the Industrial Recovery Conference Committee of the Associated Industries of Missouri for the eastern half of the state was announced today and the committee summoned to an afternoon meeting at Hotel Statler.

The committee is composed of one representative of each branch of industry in the state, named following recent preliminary meetings called by the Associated Industries, through whom information of developments in administration of the recent enacted industrial control act may be obtained by individual companies.

The purpose of the committee is to protect Missouri industries from discrimination and disadvantages resulting under the codes of practice required for each industry.

Plans for forming a regional group of industrial organizations in North Mississippi Valley states will be made next week at Chicago. Ellmer Donnell, executive vice president of the Associated Industries, will attend.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
PRELIMINARY STEP IN COUNTY TOWARD TAX REASSESSMENT

SUES TO FORCE SUPPORT BY CHARITY ORGANIZATIONS

Assessor Neaf to Seek Detailed Descriptions of Real Estate From Owners.

Assessor Neaf of St. Louis County announced today that as a preliminary step toward general reassessment of all real estate in the county he would soon seek to obtain from property owners detailed descriptions of their property.

Neaf has ordered blank forms printed which contain spaces for many items of information. These will be distributed within two weeks, he said, and property owners will be asked to return them with the requested information within 30 days. Persons who own property in the county but do not live there may obtain blanks by writing the Assessor.

Woman Charges De Paul Society Cut Her and Children Off, President Association Wouldn't Help.

A mandamus suit was filed in Circuit Court today by Mrs. Eulalia Davis Negro, in an effort to force the Society of St. Vincent de Paul and the President Association to support her and her five small children.

The petition states that the Society of St. Vincent de Paul paid her $4.50 a week until last April, when she was summoned into court on a charge of neglecting her children. Although the charge was not substantiated, she alleges that the Rev. J. J. Butler, secretary of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul organization, told her she would receive no more money until she consented to place the children in a home. She refused, and appealed to the President Association, which declined to help her without the consent of Father Butler, the suit asserts.

The two organizations are described as quasi-public in the suit, which asks the Court to compel them to furnish her with support "from funds solicited for that purpose."

It is explained that Mrs. Davis' former husband, Herman Pearson, who is the father of four of her children, has been unemployed for two years and unable to contribute to the welfare of his children. No mention is made of her present husband.

The case will be heard June 29 before Judge Hamilton, Irving T. Spence, attorney for Mrs. Davis.

ST. LOUIS PAIR'S ELOPEMENT
AT MISSOURI U. DISCLOSED

Lillian Frances Crossman Wed to Albert Nelson Hobart Jr.

on Nov. 3.

The elopement and marriage last Nov. 3 of Miss Lillian Frances Crossman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Crossman of Clayton, and Albert Nelson Hobart Jr., 614 Parthenia avenue, became known today with formal announcement of the wedding by the bride's parents.

The pair, then students at the University of Missouri, drove from Columbia to Mason, where they obtained a marriage license, and then drove to Moberly and were married by a minister. Hobart, a senior, left school last January. He is 20 years old and his bride, who has just completed her freshman year, is 18.

The wedding was kept secret until last February, when Mrs. Hobart told her parents. They agreed to make no announcement until the end of the college term. The pair plan to leave shortly on a honeymoon and on their return will reside in St. Louis.

The bride has been staying with her parents at their residence, 7442 Buckingham drive. Her father is vice president of the Skinner & Kennedy Stationery Co., and is former world champion revolver shot. The elder Hobart, now retired, was formerly connected with the National Tube Co.

BIG FRISCO BOND HOLDERS SHOWN IN BANKRUPTCY SUIT

Life Insurance Companies and Banks Listed as Owners in Schedule Filed in Federal Court.

Life insurance companies and banks are shown as principal holders of large blocks of bonds of the Frisco Railroad and subsidiaries in the financial schedules filed in Federal Court yesterday as a step in the effort to determine who would have the new bankruptcy laws.

The railroad, in Federal receivership since last November, filed a bankruptcy petition May 16, attaching its reorganization plan, designed to reduce fixed charges. The plan would reduce charges from about $12,700,000 to about $8,500,000 annually until July 1, 1937, and would make a large part of existing charges contingent on earnings for a further period of five years. The receivers, James M. Kurn, former president, and John G. Lonsdale, banker, were authorized to remain in charge of the road's properties until further order of court.

Large Bond Holders.

Among the insurance companies listed in the schedules as large bondholders are the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., $15,051,000; Prudential Insurance Co. of America, $8,389,000; Astoria Life Insurance Co., $2,000,000.

Among St. Louis banks and insurance companies holding Frisco bonds were listed the following: First National Bank, $10,000; St. Louis Union Trust Co., $1,000; Missouri State Life Insurance Co., $200,000; American Automobile Insurance Co., $80,000; Busch's National Bank, $10,000; Merchantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co., $5000; St. Louis Union Trust Co. (for Mallinckrodt Trust Estates), $337,500.

Bonds in New York Banks.

The Chase National Bank, New York, was listed as holding $5,617,854 in bonds and the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., New York, $2,785,900.

The schedules listed stock outstanding on June 1 at $14,690,601 and unmatured funded debt at $261,588,595. Outstanding equipment trust obligations were shown as totaling $20,347,000, with $2,431,000 past due. Matured and unpaid funded debt was listed at a total of $35,050. The schedules said, however, that funds to pay these matured obligations were in the hands of the trustee.

Bank loans, according to the schedules, totaled $5,136,861, loans from the Railroad Credit Corporation totaled $3,805,178, and loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation aggregated $5,190,000. The road owes $402,113 to the Merchantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co., and $42,984 to the First National Bank, it was stated.

The schedules comprise six bound volumes, several of them about two feet square and containing hundreds of pages.

COLORADO MOUNTAIN IS NAMED AFTER DR. WILLIAM TRELEASE

Former Director of Missouri Botanical Garden Nationally Known as Dawson is Home of

A 12,500-foot Colorado mountain has been named Mount Trelease in honor of Dr. William Trelease, nationally known botanist and a former director of the Missouri Botanical Garden.

The mountain, which was named by the National Geographical Board, is on the Loveland Pass Highway, near Georgetown. Several St. Louisans, including Dr. Armand Ravard and Dr. William H. Luedde, enlisted the aid of former Senator Harry and Senator Costigan of Colorado in naming the peak after the botanist.

Dr. Trelease, who lives at Urbana, Ill., was director of the botanical garden from 1899 to 1912 and also served as professor of botany at Washington University until 1913, when he became a member of the faculty of the University of Illinois, retiring in 1928.

Dr. Trelease, who is 76 years old, was the first president of the Botanical Society of America and a former president of the American Society of Naturalists. At one time he made a botanical collection near the mountain which now bears his name. Citizens of that vicinity joined in requesting that the peak be named after him.

ACCEPTS RIDE, ROBBED OF $24

C. F. Wakeland, Overland insurance agent, was robbed of $24 last night by two men after he had accepted a ride home in their automobile.

The driver of the machine invited him to ride, Wakeland said, as he was walking on Goodale avenue, Overland, toward his home, 2610 Olden avenue. As Wakeland took his seat beside the driver, a man in the rear of the machine he had not seen, put a revolver against his back and ordered him to turn over his money. He was put out of the car at Goodale and Milton avenues.

LOG BROKEN BY THROWN BRICK.
William Knight, 32-year-old waiter, 2600 Locust boulevard, was taken to City Hospital last night from the 2800 block of Finney avenue, suffering from a fractured right leg. He said several Negro boys threw bricks at him, one brick hitting his leg and knocking him down.

NURSE AMENDS CLAIM TO ESTATE AS WIDOW

Miss Hainsworth Says She and Dr. Wolfert Took Common Law Marriage Vows.

An amended petition in which Miss Mary E. Hainsworth, a nurse, sets forth details of the alleged relation by which she is claiming a widow's share of the estate of Dr. Louis J. Wolfert, former superintendent of Josephine Hospital, was filed in Probate Court today.

Miss Hainsworth states that she and Dr. Wolfert took common law marriage Jan. 15, 1900, at Kenosha, Wis., and lived together for periods then and in St. Louis in 1908 and 1909. Professional employment of both, she states, necessitated separate residence. From April, 1924, when she moved to Long Beach, Calif., to the time of Dr. Wolfert's death in April, 1932, she states, he visited her for a month each year.

She is asking $400 support money pending a decision on her claim. According to the petition, she believes Dr. Wolfert's estate is larger than the $10,000 set forth in an inventory. Dr. Wolfert left no will and if the nurse's claim is not accepted the estate will go to four brothers and a sister. Common law marriages were abolished by the Missouri Legislature in 1921, but the abolition was not retroactive.

BOY HURT WHEN KNOCKED OFF BARREL TRUCK BY WIRE

Donald Beershalter, 15-year-old Roosevelt High School student, suffered injuries of the skull and spine today when he was knocked to the street, at 111 telephone wires from the end of a load of barrels on which he and a companion were riding.

The accident occurred on Lafayette avenue, east of Twelfth boulevard. The driver, George Wlenski, 1221 Montgomery street, said he did not know the boys were on the truck. He was not held. Donald, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beershalter, 2838 Iowa avenue, was taken to City Hospital.

SALOMON AND O'BRIEN LEAD IN STATE GOLF SEMIFINALS

HARVARD CREW
WINS IN JUNIOR VARSITY; YALE
'FROSH' VICTORS

By the Associated Press.
NEW LONDON, Conn., June 16.—Harvard's big, brawny junior varsity crew came from behind with a smashing finish on the windswept Thames River this morning to whip Yale by a slim margin and give the 'Frosh' a hard-earned, even break in the first two races of the seventy-first regatta between these academic rivals.

The "Jayvees" in a closing drive that overcame adverse conditions as well as Eli rivals, furnished a gathered shivering crowd with a sample of the heavyweight power Harvard hoped to apply this evening in the four-mile varsity race.

Yale Freshmen Eight Wins.

Yale's freshmen registered a hollow victory by five full lengths in the first race, "padding" over the last mile with an overwhelming lead gained when the Harvard yearlings caught a series of "crabs" in the rough water and went to piece temporarily.

It was not contested by the third crew, the crimson cuirs pulled themselves together and got along in unison against the Eli freshman finishing their season undefeated, negotiated the two miles in 12:06:24 while Harvard was timed in 12:26:25.

Both races were rowed over the upper two miles of the varsity course.

Harvard, 5-4 favorite.

Harvard ruled a slight favorite to capture the main event for the third successive year with a heavier and more experienced eight, backed by a young giant, "Gerry" Cassidy, who paced three successive crews to triumph over the Eli on the Thames, first as a freshman oarsman and twice as varsity stroke. Cassidy and his veteran crew-mates think they have the "Indian sign" on their rivals and the betting favors them, at $5 to 4. The four-mile race was scheduled to start at 5:45 (St. Louis time).

Not since the Crimson's last big winning streak, from 1908 to 1913, inclusive, has Harvard won as many as three varsity races in a row.

Cassidy came along with a batch of boys he shouldered boys, coached by Charles Williams, and took control of the naval situation here. Harvard offered relatively little resistance to the smooth working eight produced at Yale by Ed Leader, the former Washington star.

Dean-Derringer
Return Match
Billed Sunday

IZZY DEAN and Paul Derringer, who engaged in a shortistic and wrestling engagement on the baseball field when the Cardinals were in Cincinnati recently, have been matched to meet again Sunday afternoon, but it will be a pitching contest. At the request of President Sidney Well of the "eds," who wanted to cash in on the advertising that the impromptu bout was given, Main Street has agreed to send Dean against Derringer in one game of Sunday's double-header.

With Washington opening here tomorrow, the Browns improve on their home stay which starts tomorrow by winning a flock of ball games, they certainly are going to be busy for, in the 18 following days, they are scheduled for 24 games, including six doubleheaders.

With Washington opening here tomorrow, the Browns have four; with New York, five; with Boston, five; with Philadelphia, six and with Detroit, four. There are doubleheaders with all five clubs and with the Athletics, two are scheduled.

Killefer's pitching staff is none too strong, numerically or artistically, to cope with an assignment of this kind. It was hoped that reinforcements might be gained before the trade-limit went on at midnight last night, but the "watching hours" came and went and the "nothing doing" sign was out at the Browns' headquarters.

The Browns' just-ended trip was their shortest and most successful. Only six games were played and the team broke even with three victories. In each of the two contests they played—Cleveland and Chicago—had just finished winning eight of nine from them, the Browns did pretty well to hold them even.

BOSTON BRAVES GET THREE PLAYERS IN LAST-MINUTE DEALS

WHITNEY, LEE OBTAINED FROM PHILS; PITCHER
STARR BOUGHT

Special to the Post-Dispatch
BOSTON, June 16.—Last minute deals made by the Boston Braves have added three new players to the club's roster, while two have been sent away. In addition, the local management parted with a considerable amount of cash in order to put over the trades.

The outstanding deal was turned with the Phillies, the Braves getting Arthur "Pinkie" Whitney, who is regarded as the second best third-sacker in the league, and Hal Lee, an outfielder, in exchange for Fred Knothe, third baseman, and Wesley Schulmerich, reserve outfielder, and cash, said to be upwards to $75,000.

In the other deal, the Red Sox traded right-handed pitcher, Ray Starr, eight-and-a-half inches tall, with the Cardinals, from the New York Giants. Starr was sent away by the Giants when the club had to release a man to get down to the 23-player limit after obtaining Frank O'Doul and Watson Clark in the trade with Brooklyn for Sam Leslie. With Starr gone, the Giants now have only Gus Mancuso to show for the deal with the Cardinals last winter, which sent Pitchers Walker and Mooney, Outfielder Allen and Catcher O'Farrell to the St. Louis club.

Whitney and Lee are expected to bolster the Boston team greatly. Whitney will round out a fine infield with Urbanski, MacPhail and Jordan, while the acquisition of Knothe will send Jim Mooney, St. Louis boy purchased from the American Association, to the bench. Lee probably will play left, with Berger going back to center and Moore playing in right field. There's plenty of power in this trio. Lee for the season has a batting average of .275, but was out for some time because of injuries. Whitney, who also served as captain of the Phillips, just recently has started playing at his best.

With the Braves, Knothe divided third base duties with Gyselman, a recruit from the Pacific Coast, while Schulmerich was an outfit reserve. Each is a right-hand batter and came to Boston from the Pacific Coast League.

The Braves today announced the outright sale of the contract of Harry "Socks" Seibold, pitcher, to the Albany Club of the International League. The sale was made to room for the coming of Starr.

Seibold is the last of five players who came to Boston from Chicago in the Rogers Hornsby deal in 1922.

NEGRO TRACK MEET IS SCHEDULED TOMORROW

The ninth annual track and field meet between the Ellardville Negro Y. M. C. A. and the Pine Street Y. is scheduled tomorrow afternoon at Tandy Park, Cottage and Pendleton avenues, starting at 1 o'clock. The sprints will appear in five events, the juniors in five and the intermediates in three.

Several athletes from Summer High and Vashon High, including winners in the recent Negro high school track meet, will compete in this meet.

The Negro Y. M. C. A. Industrial League baseball game, scheduled for 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, has been postponed until 5 o'clock, due to the track meet.

TOURNAMENT NOTES.

The strength of the players in the minor classes was shown in the first round when W. W. Parrish, St. Joseph, took Joe Switzer into camp in Class C. Parrish shooting a 68 to a 72 for Switzer. Then Hord Hardin, Normandie, Washington U. football player, had a 69.

Service, Lob and Chop Stroke Feature Final Tennis Lesson Of Post-Dispatch Free Series

The Post-Dispatch concluded its series of free tennis lessons under the direction of Coach Ike Macy with the final class yesterday afternoon at O'Fallon Park.

Coach Macy centered his instructions on the service, the lob and the chop stroke in tennis, yesterday. His talk, which drew another large crowd, was followed by a demonstration on the courts.

After the demonstration Coach Macy engaged in exhibition doubles play with William Bell, Fred Baer and Harry Lindemann, and then in mixed doubles with Mrs. Violet Furlong, Mrs. Ann Lindemann and Bell.

The free tennis lessons started on June 5, and were conducted at Forest Park, Carondelet Park and O'Fallon Park. Coach Macy gave three lessons at each park, dealing principally with the forehand, back-

THREE "KAYOES" ON FIRST BOXING CARD AT BATTERY

By Harold Tuthill.

Eddie Edison, local lightweight, is still undefeated today, but Eddie almost received the surprise of his life at Jack Tippett's first outdoor boxing show of the season at the Battery A last night.

Eddie was scheduled to go on against K. O. McClellan, but McClellan failed to stand the physical test and Russell Gross of Quincy, Ill., was substituted. Gross, who had nothing to lose and a lot to gain, sparred in the opening round with Eddie.

Then in the second, Gross waded in, reached down to the floor with his right hand and came up twice to send Eddie to the canvas, once for a count of seven and again at the end of the round when the bell rang, saving a toll on Eddie.

After that Eddie looked out for a knockout-making right and stepped in several times, including a powerful blow with heavy wallop to the head and body. However, Gross failed to go down and after three rounds of terrific beating, yielded to Referee Harry Cook's decision to stop and Eddie was awarded a technical knockout after five rounds.

It was the final bout on the program and Eddie's victory made it a clean sweep of the four matches for St. Louis boxers. Originally, Dave Barry and Chick Wagner of Louisville, Ky., were to appear last, but Barry won the semifinal by gaining a technical knockout over Wagner in the fourth round. Bob Riley's protege gave Wagner a lesson in boxing and had him on the floor, nine times, six of which were in the fourth round, when Cook stopped the fight.

On the whole, however, there was no whitening of the cards, no foul from the top of the league to $22—a new low, for Al. The day Eddie has rebounded up to 374 and has just about pulmonary the comatose White Sox back to life.

Then there's Fred Schulte of the Senators, late of the Browns.

Fred is in the lead of the league with 300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

Great hitters like Ruth, McGinnis, Gehrig and Foxx are more than 10 points above their averages of last year.

Instead of picking on an individual, as the year's best "hust," the idea would seem to be to find a star who hasn't exploded.

On the Other Hand—

Y Es, there are some. There's the Wild Horse of the Osage, Pepper Martin, who is a galloping demon on the road. Last year the Braves were 249.

Martin in 1922 sank to a 222 level. This year he rebounded from the bottom up to the leadership of the league with a 265 average. He is hitting more than 65 points above his average for 1921, the year, he broke up the world series.

It is characteristic of Martin to refuse to remain out of the lime-light.

Other Club Not So Hot.

NOT that the rival clubs are very calorific in outfield hitting power. Only one or two teams have formidable combinations. The best at this time appears to be the Phillies, the Giants and the Braves.

For the Phillies, Klein and Mulligan are hitting considerably over .300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

For the Giants, Peper Martin, McGinnis and Gehrig are hitting over .300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

For the Braves, Eddie Edison, Eddie Tippett and K. O. McClellan are hitting over .300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

For the White Sox, Eddie Edison, Eddie Tippett and K. O. McClellan are hitting over .300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

For the Browns, Eddie Edison, Eddie Tippett and K. O. McClellan are hitting over .300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

For the Indians, Eddie Edison, Eddie Tippett and K. O. McClellan are hitting over .300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

For the Athletics, Eddie Edison, Eddie Tippett and K. O. McClellan are hitting over .300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

For the Pirates, Eddie Edison, Eddie Tippett and K. O. McClellan are hitting over .300, and Lee (was 249 two years ago), etc.

TWO WOMEN SOUGHT
IN CHICAGO KILLINGReal Estate Broker Had Been Friendly With Divorcee and Chorus Girl.By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, June 16.—Convinced that jealousy was at the bottom of the crime, police today sought two women—one a north side divorcee and the other a chorus girl—as they attempted to solve the killing of Oscar Nelson, 37 years old, married real estate broker.

Nelson, shot four times, was found slumped over the kitchen table in his home early yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Maude Nelson, a singer. Mrs. Nelson had just returned from singing in a concert. Partly empty liquor glasses were on the table, and the room showed signs of a struggle.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the State's Attorney's office said he had information that the divorcee had expected Nelson to divorce his wife and marry her. Nelson frequently was seen in the company of the chorus girl.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 16.—William Fine, the oldest inmate of the penitentiary, was among 10 convicts granted paroles yesterday by the Governor.

Feeble and blind, the 89-year-old Vernon County prisoner was released from the prison after serving nearly six years of a 25-year sentence for second-degree murder. Prison records show Fine was born in Lincoln County, Jan. 8, 1844, and that he fought in the Civil War.

"I would not be in prison now if I had not confessed," Fine said recently, discussing the affair which caused his prison sentence. "I shot the man in self-defense."

Fine began serving his sentence March 24, 1927, for the killing of Elmer Ackerman near Nevada, Mo.

RAIL UNION MEN REFUSE TO ATTEND WAGE CUT MEETING

Leaders Say They Will Ignore Demand of the Operators for a Reduction of 22 1/2 Pct.

ASSERT IT WOULD HINDER RECOVERY

Whitney Thinks Most of Roads Will Refuse to Break Away from President's Program.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 16.—Spokesmen for the 1,000,000 union workers on America's 201 class 1 railroads declared today they would ignore the demands of their employers for a 22 1/2 per cent reduction in wages to replace a 10 per cent temporary "deduction" in effect at present until Nov. 1.

Statements of the employees were expressed at a conference of the Railway Labor Executives' Association, comprising 21 unions. Many of the union leaders said the railroads were not serious in the wage cut demand.

The railroads, however, in demanding the reduction yesterday, declared themselves united 100 per cent in the demand, and would make no concessions.

Won't Attend Meeting.

Alexander F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Labor Executives' Association, declared the unions would not recognize the demands in any way, not even so far as to attend the wage conference requested by the roads for July 12.

The present 10 per cent deduction to which it is now suggested a 12 1/2 per cent cut be added expires at midnight Oct. 31," he said. "At that time wages go back to a 100 per cent basis under existing agreements, which do not call for any conference on the matter."

Whitney said only a few unions had accepted the suggestion of the desired cut. He indicated that if any formal consideration would be given the demand, it would not be until all the unions had been notified.

"Would Hinder Recovery."

"Reduction of wages now would do more to hinder recovery than any other thing," he said. "Any industrial or political leader will tell you that. However, I believe that most of the railroads will refuse to break away from President Roosevelt's program of maintaining wages."

Having decided no official action would be taken on the wage matter, the union leaders turned their attention to labor's part in co-operating with the new emergency railway act. A leader in the discussion was Donald R. Richardson, attorney for the association and recently appointed assistant administrator of industrial control.

Whitney said he understood one part of the railway bill provides that labor should not be disturbed. He said that might be taken to mean pay, number and classification of employees could not be changed.

Locomotive Engineers Will Seek Pay Advance.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, June 16.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers voted unanimously in convention yesterday to fight any efforts of the railroads to reduce wages, and to insist upon restoration of their former wages Oct. 1, when a present agreement for a 10 per cent deduction expires.

It was announced that official notice of the proposed wage cut of 12 1/2 per cent had been received thus far from only one railroad, the Louisville & Nashville.

The convention's resolution, announcing its opposition to wage cuts, declared that a previous agreement for a 10 per cent deduction, which did not technically affect basic wage scales, would expire Oct. 1, and its expiration would automatically restore the former wage. The brotherhood will insist upon the restoration on that date.

CHINESE ASSEMBLY RATIFIES
$50,000,000 LOAN FROM U. S.

NANKING, China, June 16.—The legislative Yuan of the Chinese Nationalist Government ratified today the United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation's $50,000,000 loan.

The legislative body made two recommendations, that a board of trustees be formed to hold the funds and supervise appropriations and that the entire loan be used for productive purposes, such as development of industries, agriculture, waterworks and communications.

No funds whatsoever, it was recommended, should be used for civil-war purposes or the suppression of bandits.

Prompt Solution of War Debts For Economic Restoration of World, Urged in French Note

Message to U. S. Regrets Instalment Has Fallen Due Without Arrangements Being Made—Cites Own Sacrifices.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, June 16.—Hope that a solution could be found to the problem of intergovernmental debts "in the interests of the economic restoration of the world" is expressed in the French note announcing the "deferral" of the $40,000,000 instalment due the United States.

The note reads: "The French Government had hoped that the June 15 payment would not have fallen due without an arrangement for settlement of the war debts having been reached, answering the conditions set forth in the motion of the Chamber of Deputies Dec. 13.

"The circumstances unfortunately yet have not permitted realization of this hope, but the French Government still thinks that within the short time the solution should be found to the problem of intergovernmental debts in the interests of the economic restoration of the world and notably in view of maintaining and also developing the results already achieved and in so large a part due to France's sacrifice of her own claims.

"The French Government consequently is obliged to defer payment of the sum due June 15. But it intends in no way to break unilateral engagements freely entered into, and desires to renew to the Federal Council the offer that it is always ready to give by all opportunity means the most active help to finding a satisfactory solution.

The French Cabinet voted approval for Premier Daladier's debt policy and currency stabilization stand at the World Economic Conference. It endorses also the Premier's efforts to get the world to return to the gold standard.

Italy Paid Token "To Show Good Will," Urges Solution.

ROME, June 16.—The Government officially announced today the payment to the United States yesterday of $1,000,000 in silver or the war debt.

(The amount due yesterday from Italy was $13,454,000.)

Premier Mussolini, as Minister of Foreign Affairs, was invited to initiate negotiations toward a definite solution of the problem before Dec. 15, when the next payment due.

An official communiqué reads: "The Grand Council made on June 12 made the following decision:

"The Grand Council of Fascism, in view of the payment falling due June 15, and the beginning of the London Conference, decides on payment of $1,000,000 for the purpose of demonstrating the good will of the Fascist Government, but at the same time this good will is limited by the present economic situation, and it invites the Foreign Minister to initiate negotiations for a definite solution of the problem in all there had been due $144,180,000.

Twenty million ounces of silver has been received at Bombay, India, by the United States as payment of the $10,000,000 British instalment. Great Britain, however, is responsible for its delivery to the United States.

The State Department also disclosed that the Federal Army Office in New York had received 2,000,000 ounces of silver from Italy, meeting its partial payment of $1,000,000.

The silver was received by the Government at 50 cents an ounce, under the inflation law passed recently as by the special session, authorizing the President to accept maximum of $200,000,000 in debt payments in silver.

STAHL TO QUIT STATE

St. Louis Republican to Resume
Law Practice as Soon as Successor Is Named.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 16.—Milton R. Stahl of St. Louis, one of the two Republican members of the Missouri Public Service Commission, will resign soon to resume the practice of law in St. Louis, it was learned today. Stahl has not yet transmitted his resignation to Gov. Park, but it is understood he will as soon as the Governor decides on a successor.

John H. Porter of St. Louis, one of the Democratic members, recently submitted his resignation, to become effective on Aug. 1. Porter will return to St. Louis to resume his profession as a consulting engineer.

Stahl was appointed to the commission in May, 1929, by former Gov. Caulfield, for a six-year term ending in April, 1935. He was designated as chairman. Stahl retired as chairman several weeks ago when Gov. Park appointed John C. Collet, Democrat, of Salisbury, as a member of the commission, and designated him as chairman. Collet succeeded Almon Ing, Republican of Polar Bluff, whose term had expired. Appointment of Collet converted the political majority of the commission from Republican to Democratic.

Gov. Park has not indicated whom

BOTH SIDES AGREE TO U. S. MEDIATION OF CUBAN DISPUTE

ABC Secret Society and President Machado Promise to Co-Operate With Ambassador Welles.

By the Associated Press.

HAVANA, June 16.—The ABC Secret Society has announced it would co-operate with the American Ambassador's efforts to re-establish peace in Cuba.

When Ambassador Welles, during his visit in Washington, the Italian Government informed the United States Government of the decision taken to make an immediate payment of $1,000,000 as recognition of the debt while awaiting final settlement at the soonest date convenient to the American Government.

"Payment was made yesterday to the Federal Treasury in New York of 2,000,000 ounces of silver."

U. S. Gets Less Than 10 Per Cent in Token Payments.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Token payments were made yesterday less than 10 per cent of the war debt instalments due, were all the United States Treasury could count as the pay date passed.

The nations paid a total of $1,359,000 and hastened to ask for a hearing for reconsideration of several hundred political prisoners.

The ABC memorandum said in part: "... this organization infers from statements that the mediation would imply nothing more than the friendly effort of a friendly Government to re-establish in this republic peace based on justice and the desires of the nation, hence not detracting from its sovereignty."

"... the ABC therefore... declares it contracts to take pains to see that the mediation comes about loyally and with regard to the authentic ideals and interests of the Cuban people, conferring in the sense of justice of the matter."

"The ABC... reserves the right to withdraw from the process of mediation... if this should be excessively prolonged, or if it assumes a trend... contrary to the interests and ideals of the Cuban people."

Jose Hernandez Cardenas, cartoonist for the newspaper Informacion, was arrested yesterday by expert police (detectives) and sent to Principe prison. The reason for the arrest was not given.

A cartoon was published yesterday concerning recent military edicts regarding the propagation of new or false rumors which may be alarming character.

RAILROADS' VALUE IN U. S. PLACED AT $21,241,711,081

Interstate Commerce Commission Bureau Fixes
Study Base.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Railroads of the United States were estimated today to be worth at going prices approximately $21,241,711,081.

This figure was computed from figures issued by the Valuation Bureau of the Interstate Commerce Commission on which the commission expected to base its decision in the rate study it now has under way.

The commission is considering the question of whether freight rates shall be reduced throughout the country.

On their books as of Dec. 31, 1932, the railroads carried a total valuation of $26,091,310,729. This figure is slightly less than the original cost of building the roads, including purchase of land and working capital as estimated by the commission. This figure was $26,322,029,000.

The value of the carriers was computed on the following basis: Spot prices (current prices of materials) gave a figure of $16,858,547,204 for cost of reproduction less depreciation. To this figure was added $3,032,799,826 cost of land, $338,854,000 for working capital, and 5 per cent as a going value, bringing the total to $21,241,711,081.

Actual cost of reproducing the railroads now was estimated at $25,742,958,889 at current prices.

Based on average prices over the period from 1929 to Dec. 31, 1932, the cost except land would be $23,963,546,235.

Using the same method of computation as that from which the $21,241,711,081 figure was derived, it was estimated that eastern railroads are worth approximately $9,789,907,500; southern railroads $3,673,841,891 and western railroads $8,883,558,883.

We have had, with the power, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be financially independent; never be afraid to attack wrong; whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Mr. Morgan and Socialism.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
P. MORGAN is quoted as saying, "The whole world today is an example of the unrest caused by the Socialistic trend of government," and refers to England, France and the United States as examples of "what legislators will do to the people they represent." For which it would appear that, in so far as the United States differs from Socialistic trends, he must have reference to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Government subsidies and contracts to shipping and airplane interests.

I believe it would be nearer the truth to say that the Socialistic trend of government is a result, rather than a cause, of the world's unrest, reference to "unrest" being a diplomatic and polite manner in describing the "unrestful" plight of passengers who had been robbed and had their ship gutted by a gang of financial brigands.

There is some doubt as to whether legislators have been guilty of such indiscretions as giving the people what they want; at least, not within the past 12 years. The banks appear to have assumed this responsibility and proceeded to give the people, not what they wanted, but what they decided the people ought to have, which consisted principally in unsound advice and highly engraved printed matter, now worth about $2 per ton, F. O. B., carload lots.

Mr. Morgan says he thinks the capitalist system will endure because it is the only system "guaranteeing the distribution of wealth," which is true, and justified in the magnificence and splendor of one family whose wealth is reputed to be eight billion dollars; of 90 per cent of the national wealth owned by 3 per cent of the population; of four-fifths of the people owing 218 billion dollars to the other fifth; an obscure college professor paying $6.02 income tax and the House of Morgan paying nothing; presidents of great corporations enjoying their regular yearly salaries of $200,000 while wage earners enjoy a 50 per cent reduction; giant financial institutions of unequal resources and the payment of income taxes; the paradox of some 150 millionaires, 15,000,000 penniless beggars and 40,000,000 people with only the fragile hand of charity holding back the祸 from their door—a "guaranteed distribution" of wealth with a kick in it that would burn a hole in an asbestos stomach, wrench the soul and bring tears to the eyes of the Egyptian Sphinx.

Is this unequal distribution of wealth, in a land containing every element essential to a veritable Utopia, is this the correct answer to the problems embraced in the science of living? Our present state of underdevelopment and power of greed, over-shadowed and over-taxed, would indicate that we have skipped a few pages of the elementary rules and formulas, and are puffed in the solution of problems over in the advanced mathematics of life, because we have not yet learned the multiplication table in the science of living. H. L. SPARLING.

The High Cost of Water.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
WHILE we are discussing municipal ownership and the various public utility rates, let us not forget the ridiculously high rates charged by the St. Louis County Water Co. I have a small and economical house in University City, and a fairly large lawn in Springfield. My annual water bill exceeds $25 a year, is never less than $4 a quarter and frequently runs $8 or $9 a quarter. Mine is only one case in thousands. My friends have told me frequently of their high county water bills.

In the past, there has been talk of purchase or water from the city of St. Louis by University City and possibly other cities, to reduce the rates. Won't you turn your editorial guns on the subject to turn relief for us?

THIRSTY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
A Dusty Street.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I SHOULD like to complain through my column about the dust on University street. Why isn't it oiled? We pay our tax as well as other residents, hence are entitled to the same benefits. I hope the head of the Street Department will read this and remedy the condition.

TAXPAYER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
For Lower Local Postage.

THE postage rates on letters mailed and delivered in the same city or community should not require a 3-cent stamp. The 3-cent stamp may be considered justified for inter-state delivery of mail, as there is sufficient expense involved and the postal budget must be balanced. However, the letter which does not leave St. Louis does not average 2 cents in expense for handling and delivery.

Business interests and the private citizens will appreciate this very practical proposal. Its adoption by the Government would mean that healthy return of the days when St. Louis products were so well advertised by mail that St. Louisians bought St. Louis products and put St. Louisians to work making them. St. Louis was then the fourth city of the nation. This plan is being considered by the Government, and would meet with national approval.

GEORGE G. BURCKE.

RECOVERY AND INDUSTRIAL CONTROL.
In a society which relies upon enterprise for the direction of its industrial activity, employment and prosperity are necessarily dependent upon the ability of business men to sell their products at a price which will both cover the costs of manufacture and promise something in the way of a profit.

During a period of depression, this possibility disappears. Physical production outruns the ability of consumers to buy at the prevailing level of prices. Price reductions ensue, profits disappear and business stagnates. Recovery requires either that money be placed in the hands of consumers which will enable them to purchase the goods which the machine can so abundantly produce or that output be so restricted as once more to restore prices to profit-making levels; or a policy may be adopted which will work toward both these objectives.

The first course is the one which has been followed by the Roosevelt administration. Measures calculated to provide consumer purchasing power include the creation of the Civilian Conservation Corps, the provision of $500,000,000 for direct unemployment relief, the three-billion public works program included in the Industrial Recovery Act, and, perhaps, the permissive inflationary powers written into the farm relief bill. Measures which aim to restrict output so as to boost prices to a point which will cover costs and restore profits are the acreage reduction provision of the farm relief bill and the anti-trust modification of the recovery act. It is clear that the latter measures are at yet quantitatively more significant than the former. The administration has so far placed its major emphasis on the curtailment of output to restore profits.

This choice, we believe, was a necessary one in the present emergency. Money with which to buy goods could have been spent more widely only at the risk of impairing the credit of the Government and debauching our monetary system. Public indemnification of all depositors in closed banks and greenback financing of a more extensive program of construction and unemployment does might have served, in the end, merely to compound disaster. Restoration of profits is, on the other hand, the sine qua non of recovery. As profits come in prospect, employment will grow. As employment grows, purchasing power will be extended. With the extension of purchasing power will come an expansion of consumer demand, an enlargement of bank credit and slow but steady revival of business activity.

But this program, despite its merits as an emergency device, is not without its dangers. It attacks the economic dilemma from the producer's rather than from the consumer's point of view. It aims to check over-production, to eliminate surpluses; but this over-production is, in general, a pecuniary rather than a human phenomenon. These surpluses are, in the main, surpluses which cannot be sold at profitable prices. They are not surpluses for which there is no human need. The living standards of the masses of our people did not, even at the peak of prosperity, reach a point which would justify deliberate limitation of output as a permanent national policy. As industry recovers, therefore, quotas must be enlarged, output increased, that all our people may share, as consumers, in the restoration of prosperity. We must not inherit from this depression an enduring burden of universal monopoly.

Now that the extra session of Congress has adjourned after enacting the Roosevelt program, the real test will be found in its administration. It has in it the means of stimulating business recovery. It has in it, also, the possibility of ruthless exploitation. President Roosevelt and those associated with him in working out his policies know this. It is for this reason that he has found high places for numerous Republicans. Men nominally called Republicans sit in his Cabinet. Republicans are among his outstanding supporters in Congress. By the same token, partisan politics should be adjourned in the conduct of state governments as well. Nowhere can we afford to lose vital support.

Walter Lippmann, in his excellent article, "Crossing the Line," printed yesterday, described the seriousness of what the nation faces. The outcome is more unpredictable than was the result of the World War when we entered it in 1917. It is a critical time, and at such a time Senator Clark and 11 Mississippian Representatives, all of whom received thousands of Republican votes last November, have lessened their stature as members of Congress by stooping to partisanship of the pettiest sort.

We trust their vision will broaden as the Roosevelt program gets under way.

been retired from the public service. It is highly probable that from among these a highly desirable choice can be made.

WHAT NOT TO DO.

Senator Clark and 11 of Missouri's 13 Representatives in Congress have sent Gov. Park a violently partisan telegram objecting to a "clandestine effort" to secure the appointment of John H. Ross, a Republican, to the post of Federal conservation officer for Missouri. This telegram has been disposed of by the Governor with the announcement that Mr. Ross has not received the appointment and that he will not receive it.

The incident has an importance which deserves to be widely appreciated. The Post-Dispatch holds no brief for Mr. Ross, who was Game and Fish Commissioner during the Caulfield administration. We cannot feel, however, that the Park administration has committed any grave injustice against the people of Missouri by retaining him temporarily at Jefferson City for the benefit of his advice on steps to be taken in the establishment of forestry conservation projects in the State.

Wilbur Burford, who succeeded Mr. Ross as State Game and Fish Commissioner, says that Mr. Ross was sent to Washington to confer with Federal officials about setting up camps in Missouri because of his experience with the State preserves and his familiarity with matters relating to them. If Mr. Ross had the equipment for this mission and if his counsel and services since have been of use to the Park administration, it was justified in retaining him, regardless of his political affiliation. Granting this, the new administration at Jefferson City did something to its credit.

It should be noticed that the telegram from Senator Clark and the 11 Representatives—Representatives Claiborne of University City and Romjue of Marion did not sign—made no mention of Mr. Ross' fitness or lack of fitness for the post. It did not say that he was unqualified. It did not point out delinquencies in his record as Game and Fish Commissioner. It found only one fault. He is a Republican.

We want if Senator Clark and these 11 Representatives appreciate the basic requirement for the success of the far-reaching program which the Roosevelt administration is launching. That basic requirement is the co-operation of the American people—not the co-operation of a section of them, but of the people as a whole. The industrial recovery plan and the related legislation of the special session cannot bear fruit unless it has popular support. It must have the backing of Republicans as well as Democrats.

President Roosevelt and those associated with him in working out his policies know this. It is for this reason that he has found high places for numerous Republicans. Men nominally called Republicans sit in his Cabinet. Republicans are among his outstanding supporters in Congress. By the same token, partisan politics should be adjourned in the conduct of state governments as well. Nowhere can we afford to lose vital support.

Walter Lippmann, in his excellent article, "Crossing the Line," printed yesterday, described the seriousness of what the nation faces. The outcome is more unpredictable than was the result of the World War when we entered it in 1917. It is a critical time, and at such a time Senator Clark and 11 Mississippian Representatives, all of whom received thousands of Republican votes last November, have lessened their stature as members of Congress by stooping to partisanship of the pettiest sort.

We trust their vision will broaden as the Roosevelt program gets under way.

ADVISING A DIPLOMAT.

Among the latest diplomatic appointments is that of Lincoln MacVeagh of Connecticut as Minister to France. Mr. MacVeagh, we are told, has long been a student of Greek culture and history. He has traveled, so to speak, every foot of that small, but immeasurable, Attica, the boundaries whereof were "the vines, the wheat and the olives," and his appointment has been cordially and hopefully approved by the New York Evening Post, which, however, offers a word of caution. That paper warns the fledgling envoy against an ex-distinguished citizen of the United States who now sits in the agora as one of the "Men of Athens." It enjoins him so to conduct himself as to impress upon the Athenians that our public sentiment has turned thumbs down on Samuel Insull.

Good advice. Really, swell counsel. But a bit vague. Specific instruction, it seems to us, might have been delivered. As everybody knows, the man who a little while ago was the Power and Glory of Chicago is now ambitious to give Greece a modern heating system, which he proposes to do by combining the almost fireproof lignite of Macedonia with the peat of Antioch, fashioning the mixture into small Corinthian columns, which will be guaranteed to burn like pine logs, like incense, like the forge of Vulcan, yes, like the ardor of Sappho. Oh, we may trust the exiled emperor of a shattered empire to spin a crackling prospectus of the fuel that is to rekindle the glory that was Greece and make it to blaze with Homeric splendor. And the tale ought to capture a student of the ancient lore, like Mr. MacVeagh.

He must insist that the provisions of the industry bill which permit the President to require accounts, reports and publicity be given equal emphasis with the provisions which permit immunity from the anti-trust laws and require the determination of hours and wages.

Here, as ever, eternal vigilance will be the price of liberty.

Erasure of the gold clause, Senator Reed of Pennsylvania thinks, will bow our heads in shame for 100 years. And the sweat shops of the distinguished Senator's home State ought to be good for another century of humiliation.

COL. SPALDING AND PUBLIC WORKS.

The selection of Col. George Redfield Spalding to direct the Federal Government's $3,000,000,000 public works program is an excellent assurance that this task will be in able hands, that efficiency has been preferred to politics. An army officer, Col. Spalding conforms to that high type of army engineer which built the Panama Canal.

Col. Spalding has been stationed in St. Louis for four years as engineer in charge of the Upper Mississippi Valley Division of the Army Engineer Corps. He has been in control of river work in a territory which extends from the Alleghenies to the Rockies, and from the mouth of the Ohio River to the Canadian boundary. During the war he was chief engineer of the First Army in the Meuse-Argonne drive, and after the armistice he was chief engineer for the Army of Occupation. Subsequently, he was placed in charge of Muscle Shoals. Truly, a wide and varied experience, and one admirably fitted Col. Spalding for the greatest of all modern employment projects.

St. Louis congratulates the Colonel, as it looks hopefully to the development of the public works program in this vicinity. It is yet too early to foresee what public works may be devised for re-employment, but that the Government will move swiftly goes without saying. Its intention is to have at least 1,000,000 men in the field by the first of October.

It is expected that a Federal administrator of public works will be named for each of the states. In that case, the selection of such an administrator for Missouri should be under way. There is excellent material in the State for such an appointment. With the recent political upheaval, some very able engineers with great experience in public works have

The Token Payment

IN THE British note, dated June 13, it is said that "the conclusion at which His Majesty's Government have arrived is that payment of the British instalment could not be made at this juncture without gravely impairing the success of the conference and involving widespread political consequences of a most serious character."

In his reply, the President, presumably with deliberate intention, makes a rather sharp distinction between the economic consequences of war debt payments and the political consequences. Thus he "by no means concedes some of the statements concerning the world-wide economic cause and effect" of the debts, but he does not deny, in fact, he "understands" that payment now would have "widespread political consequences of a most serious character."

It is these "political consequences" which must be understood in the United States if we are to understand what the British Government means by making a full payment.

For obviously it could not be said today that the British Government is unable to pay the June instalment, since in the past few months Britain has accumulated a larger gold stock than at any time since the war. The decision not to pay in full, and to ask for immediate revision is not, as hereteto clearly shows, based on inability to pay, but on larger political considerations.

These, in brief, are those "widespread political consequences of a most serious character" which the British note refers to without dissent by the President. It may be asked why the British could not have made their payment and washed their hands of German reparations. The answer is, first, that they have agreed to do it, and, second, that it would make matters worse if they did it. For then Lausanne would still remain unratified by France, and a direct conflict over reparations between France and Germany would be far more dangerous to peace than negotiations in which Great Britain was still a participant and able to exert a moderating influence on both sides.

These originate in the agreements made at Lausanne about a year ago. It will be recalled that by the Lausanne convention, signed July 9, 1932, reparations as such were canceled, but Germany agreed under certain circumstances to make a contribution to her creditors. She was to deposit bonds for about $750,000,000, but these were not to be paid over for at least three years.

The bonds were not to be issued, however, until and unless other German Government securities are on a 5 per cent basis or better. (They are now on a 10 per cent basis or worse.) Now the point to be noted is that this agreement reduced Germany's capital liability to a little less than 10 per cent of her liability under the Young plan.

The payment made by Britain Thursday is a little less than 10 per cent of what was due. This is not a coincidence.

It must next be recalled that, a week before the Lausanne convention, a "gentlemen's agreement" was entered into between Great Britain, France and the other creditors of Germany, under which Germany agreed to make a "token payment." It is doubly a token. Toward the United States, it signifies a recognition of the debt contract. Toward Europe, it signifies a recognition of the Lausanne agreement. If the art of statesmanship is to compose divergent interests, this is statesmanship of a high order. For, while it does not settle the issue, it averts a breakdown over the issue. Within the time limits, that could not have been done.

The President's action is also extremely far-sighted and responsible. He has shown that he knows what would be the consequences of a breakdown and then a reopening of the reparations question; and that these consequences are so serious that even default would have been less dangerous to the general interests of the world.

By not refusing this small payment, he has preserved the legal claim, which is more than he would have done had he stood pat and forced Britain to default.

The irreconcilables may cry out that less than 10 per cent is a default. But less than 10 per cent without repudiation of the contract will not be considered a default by the opinion of the world. In stating that he does not personally consider it a default, the President has uttered a moral judgment which reasonable men everywhere will be only too glad to support.

When Von Papen, who represented Germany at Lausanne, learned of this gentle- man's action, he put a question publicly to MacDonald, the British Foreign Secretary, asking what would happen if the Lausanne agreement were not ratified. The reply was that in that event, "a further conference will be held." Now, as a result, the position to day is this: The Lausanne convention has

The Repeal Tide

Rodney Dutcher in the Pittsburgh Press.

THE momentum of the prohibition repeal movement continues a jump ahead of even the men and women who have made it their business to nourish and promote it. The wet has been in an almost constant state of pleasant surprise for the last three years. Even at this late date, they still regard themselves in the position of chasing a snowball rolling down hill.

A couple of months ago, they had privately given up hope that the required 36 states would ratify the repeal amendment before the end of 1934. Now they think there's an excellent chance this year.

An unexpected turn of events has developed for getting this issue out of the way. State legislators and officials all regard repeal as inevitable. They recognize that liquor is plentifully available everywhere, and that its control will offer a rich field for taxation when one is badly needed.

The 3.2 per cent beer has opened many eyes to the revenue possibilities. The fact that this beverage has failed to create and scandals also has helped the wet's.

President Roosevelt has given the repeal movement impetus by pointing out that repeal will eliminate the necessity for the new income taxes. Ratification has become a part of the administration program since Postmaster-General James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, started sending letters to thousands of Democrats urging prompt action. Huge repeal majorities in all states which have voted on the question have been another factor

The DAILY WASHINGTON

MERRY GO ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, June 16. AFTER all the trouble over kit-bags for recruits to the conservation camps, they are not being used after all.

This is what happened. When the men first enlisted, they were given bags which the Ordnance Department had in reserve and which cost the army about 35 cents.

Then when the much-advertised kit-bags came in, costing $1.40, they were simply locked up in storerooms to replace the cheaper bags already passed out to the enlisted men.

The sole business was un-sold by a good Democrat, Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts. He called on the Ordnance Department to find out why a Massachusetts corporation was not allowed to bid on supplying razors for the kit-bags.

Republican Rewards.

IN THE last days of Congress, President Roosevelt exhibited unprecedented generosity toward Republicans in making major appointments. Here are four that made old-time Democrats gas a little when they sent them in unexpectedly as the Senate was rushing to end the session.

Robert P. Skinner of Massillon, Ohio, appointed Ambassador to Turkey. Skinner had spent his life as an A-1 consular officer, was rewarded by the Republicans with ministerships to Greece, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia. Well beyond the retirement age, his ambition was to finish his career as an Ambassador.

So during the last campaign he saw the writing on the wall and contributed heavily to the Democratic campaign chest-thumping. He lists himself as a "Re-american."

Lincoln MacVeagh, of New Haven, Conn., appointed Minister to Greece. MacVeagh's father, a staunch Republican and former general counsel to the U. S. Steel Corporation, was appointed by Coolidge as Ambassador to Japan. His uncle was made Secretary of the Treasury by Taft. His grandfather was made Attorney-General and Ambassador to Italy by Garfield. Young MacVeagh roomed at Harvard with Paul Roosevelt, only brother of Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt.

Francis Whittle of Baltimore, appointed Minister to Czechoslovakia. A nominal Republican, Whittle was made assistant Secretary of State by Coolidge, was closely identified with Republican policies.

Walter Newton, of Minneapolis, appointed to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. Newton served as a Republican Congressman for 12 years, resigning to become Secretary to Herbert Hoover. While the latter was riding to the inauguration ceremonies with Roosevelt, he asked him to take care of his ex-assistant.

Repeal Tide.

The World Economic Conference in London faces a problem very much like that of the old woman who couldn't get her pig over the fence.

One of the most important objectives is to remove trade barriers. In order to do that it is necessary to stabilize currencies. But in order to stabilize dollars and pounds, it is necessary to know how many dollars the French, British and others will have to buy to pay war debts. It is necessary to know how much paper money Roosevelt is going to print, since the more he prints, the more valuable the dollar will become. Animals also has helped to create and animals also has helped the wets.

President Roosevelt has given the repeal movement impetus by pointing out that repeal will eliminate the necessity for the new some taxes. Ratification has become a part of the administration program since Postmaster-General James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, started sending letters to thousands of Democrats, urging prompt action. Huge repeal majorities in all states which have voted on the question have been another factor of acceleration.

Wets were discouraged when they lost three states which refused to hold elections and conventions to consider the issue. But early efforts of the drys to tie the process soon lost headway. The Governor of Alabama vetoed a convention measure, and the Legislature overrode him. Florida and Pennsylvania vetoed one after another, and was promptly presented with another, which he signed. There was an uproar in the Legislature there had failed to act.

Demands for special sessions are being heard in several states. Many cities in dry states have authorized the sale of 3.2 percent beer despite the fact that it is illegal under state law.

More than 36 states will have a popular vote on repeal by the end of the year, according to the confident prediction of the association Against the Prohibition Amendment, which believes the wets will win in every case.

Among the states which will vote this year are such traditionally dry states as Alabama, Arkansas and Texas. But wet seeps have been in the South lately are enthusiastic over the prospects. They predict a 3-to-1 victory in Arkansas, a 5-to-1 victory in Texas and a large majority in Alabama.

TARIFF WAR.

TARIFFS are a form of warfare. The peace of Versailles brought an end to the war of the trenches, but it was the signal for the outbreak of an economic war no less bitter, no less expensive.

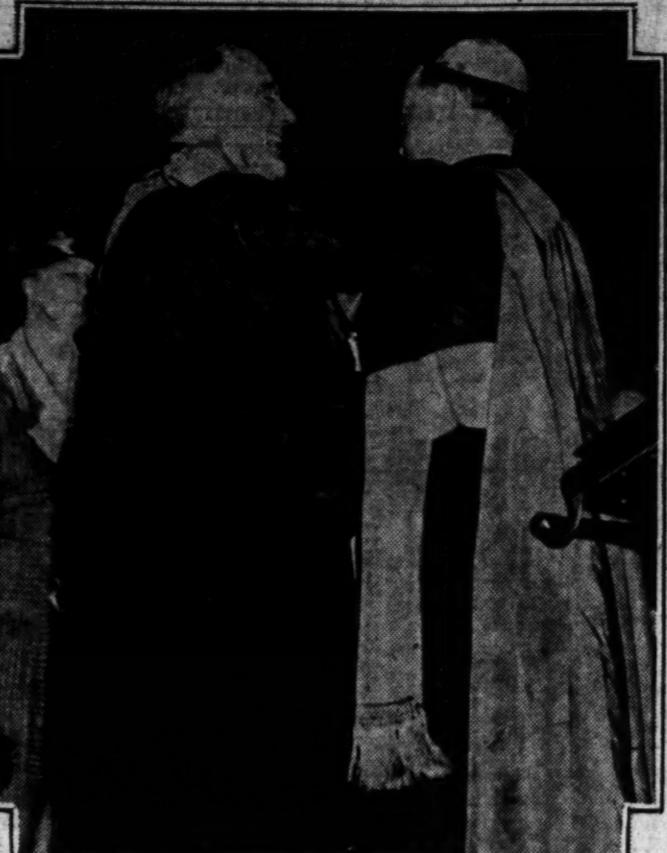

Our tariff of 1930 launched a major offensive. It has been defended, and sometimes with a certain plausibility, but the weight of evidence is too strong; we stand convicted of aggression.

Thirty-six nations protested its provisions before it passed. Cautious objective studies indicate that it was directly responsible for one-third of the billion-dollar drop in foreign trade which occurred from October, 1930, to October, 1931.

JAMES S. DOWLING SR. DIES, PRESIDENT OF PAINT FIRM

Carried on Business Which Father Begun 74 Years Ago; Funeral at 8:30 A. M. Monday.

James S. Dowling Sr., president of James S. Dowling & Co., Inc., painter, died today of heart disease at his home, 67 Crestwood drive, Clayton, after an illness of three months. He was 65 years old.

Mr. Dowling was born in St. Louis and continued the painting company begun 74 years ago by his father. For the last 40 years it has been located at 2223 Franklin avenue. Mr. Dowling is survived by one son, James S. Jr., who was associated in business with him. His wife, Mrs. Katherine Cleary Dowling, died four years ago.

A denunciation of his fellow members of the Board of Trustees of Shurtleff College, at Alton, who were instrumental in forcing the resignation of Dr. George Milton Potter, president of the college for 21 years, was delivered yesterday by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Durden, pastor of First Baptist Church of Omaha, prior to delivering the college's one hundred and sixth commencement address.

As trustees who voted for Dr. Potter's removal shifted seats and students applauded, Dr. Durden said, "I am ashamed to have been a member of a Board of Trustees that would do such a thing" and asserted that the administration of the college had "fallen into the hands of disgruntled men."

Dr. Durden paid tribute to the character and attainments of Dr. Potter, whose retirement becomes effective July 31, rounding out 21 years of service. Among all the Baptist college presidents, he said, "there is no finer Christian gentleman than he."

Resignation Was Requested.

Dr. Durden added that "it is high time the Baptists of Illinois got busy and secured control of their college instead of allowing it to fall into the hands of disgruntled men who have done this deed." Dr. Potter's resignation was requested last March after the full membership of 32 seldom was present. Several of those who voted were present as Dr. Durden spoke yesterday, those who favored Dr. Potter joining in the applause. Before beginning his prepared Commencement day address, Dr. Durden indicated he would have said "great deal more" about the situation affecting Dr. Potter were it not for the circumstances that trustees who advocated his removal

Missouri River Co. to Be Liquidated
By the Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 16.—The Kansas City Missouri River Navigation Co., whose tugs and tow boats plied the Missouri between St. Louis and here for nearly 10 years before the World War, will soon be liquidated. Shareholders voted yesterday to dissolve the company and distribute its assets. About $800,000 is to be disbursed to 2600 stockholders. The company was organized in March, 1910.

CHILDREN WILL ELECT
"MAYORS" OF PLAYGROUNDS
Other "Officers" Also Will Be Chosen to Aid Paid City Workers.

Decreased appropriations for operation of the 32 playgrounds this summer resulted in a plan to permit the children of the grounds to assist in the management. The playground season begins Monday and will continue until Labor Day.

The children will meet at each playground June 26 and nominate candidates for the following offices: mayor, five aldermen, chief of police, five policemen, three members of the "secret service," three members of the "roughhouse committee," safety commissioners and five members of the safety patrol. Elections will be June 28.

The city playground staff has been reduced from 197 to 136 as a result of a decrease in appropriations from $360,000, the amount spent last year, to $16,285. More than 1000 applicants recently were given examinations for the playground jobs by the Efficiency Board. Alfred Fleishman is superintendent of recreation.

Air Lines Selling Ticket Books. A reduction in air transportation rates through the use of scrap books was announced today by American Airways. The books, selling for $212.50, are redeemable for $250 worth of transportation over the American Airways system. The books are transferable between members of a family or employees of a firm.

BENTON, Ill., BANK RECEIVER
SUES EX-EMPLOYEE FOR $2000

Alleges Harry W. Nolen Unlawfully Received $1616 on Day Deposit.

Suit for $2000 was filed in Federal Court at East St. Louis yesterday by J. S. Horton, receiver for the First National Bank of Benton, Ill., against Harry W. Nolen, former assistant cashier.

Horton alleges that Nolen, also a stockholder and depositor, unlawfully received $1616 of his $3540 deposit in the bank on Nov. 28, 1930, the day it closed, and that payment by the bank constituted an illegal preference over 5000 other depositors, whose deposits totaled $1,000,000. The receiver has been in charge since Dec. 12, 1930. Nolen resides at Benton.

THREE KINDS OF HOME-GROWN PEAS ON SALE

Missouri Cauliflower and Kohlrabi Also Quite Plentiful.

Missouri June, Alaskan and Telephone varieties of peas were seen in the markets this week, the three varieties all tender and good.

Home-grown cauliflower is a good buy just now, and while the heads are a little shaggy and not as compact as other varieties, they are very fine in flavor.

Asparagus is nearing its season end, although there is still quite a little this week at low prices.

Another home-grown vegetable popular this week is kohlrabi, that combination of cabbage and turnip, which is an old favorite among St. Louisans of German descent.

Yellow bantam corn from Texas and green corn from several Southern states were among the favorites with the week's market shoppers.

M-m m-m-m!

What a Flavor!

Pure ham and choice spices marvelously blended . . . That's all there is to Underwood's . . . What a flavor for picnic sandwiches! And a little makes a lot of them.

salad; in the third section bread and butter sandwiches or a hot roll, and in the fourth section, potato chips or shore string potatoes.
Serve hot beverage with dinner.

Orange Cream Sherbet.

Soak together for about five minutes:
One level tablespoon gelatine and one-half cup cold water.

Add to: One and one-half cups boiling water, one and one-half cups sugar, grated rind of two oranges, one cup lemon juice and one and one-half cups orange juice.

Turn into tray of mechanical refrigerator and freeze to mush.

Beat until stiff two cups cream.

Add to whipped cream one-half cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoonful salt, two egg yolks, beaten slightly, and two egg whites, beaten stiff and dry.

Turn into partially frozen mixture and continue the freezing.

Tomato Jelly and Shrimp.

Soak together for about five minutes:
One level tablespoonful gelatine and one-fourth cup cold water.

Dissolve softened gelatine over boiling water and add: One and one-fourth cups tomato juice, two tablespoons mild vinegar, two tablespoonfuls lemon juice and one-half teaspoonful salt.

Rinse flat pan in cold water and fill with above mixture, to a depth of one inch. Chill.

To serve, cut tomato jelly into cubes and arrange on top of pieces of shrimp, using two cups of fresh shrimp.

Cherry Cobbler.

Three cups pitted sweet California cherries

Two tablespoons butter

One-third cup water

One and one-half cups graham crackers

Two teaspoons baking powder

One-fourth teaspoon salt

One-half cup sugar

One egg

One-fourth cup milk

One-half cup chopped nut meats

Filled greased baking dish half full of cherries, dot with butter and add water. Crumble crackers fine and add dry ingredients. Mix beaten egg with milk and stir into dry mixture. Fold in nut meats. Spread over top of cherries, making several cuts to allow steam to escape.
Bake 40 minutes in moderate oven.
Serve warm with cream.

California Salad.

One small cooked cauliflower

One cup cooked peas

One cup diced carrots

French dressing

One minced green pepper

Break cauliflower into small portions, combine all vegetables and marinate in highly seasoned French dressing. Chill and arrange on lettuce sprinkling surface with minced green pepper and pass additional dressing.

Rhubarb Whip.

Three cups rhubarb

One lemon

One cup sugar

One cup whipped cream

Wipe rhubarb, cut into inch lengths, peel lemon very thinly and cock rhubarb, lemon rind and juice and sugar together until fruit is quite tender and juice slightly thickened. Remove lemon rind, then fold in cream, whipped until stiff. Serve in sherbet glasses with crisp cookies or lady fingers.

COFFEE JELLY

Two tablespoons granulated gelatine

One cup boiling water

One-half cup sugar

One-half cup cold water

Two cups coffee

Soak gelatine for about five minutes in the cold water and then dissolve in the boiling water. Add sugar and coffee and turn into a mold and let cool.

JAM AND MARMALADE FROM MANY FRUITS

Fruits and Berries Are Suitable for Winter Sweets Now Plentiful.

It's a wise woman who watches the market closely now and picks up small amounts of fruits and berries as bargains are found.

A few glasses of jam or jelly made from day to day soon give one that comfortable assurance of ample supplies on hand for winter. Here are some recipes:

Raspberry Jam.

Pick over and wash two quarts of ripe red or black raspberries; drain, put in a large bowl and crush thoroughly. Measure the crushed berries and to four cups add seven cups sugar, mixing it in gradually. Heat slowly to the boiling point, stir constantly while heating. When the mixture begins to boil, turn the heat down, bring to a hard boil and stir in a scant one-half cup commercial liquid pectin. Continue stirring and boiling for one minute. Remove at once from the fire, skim and let stand five minutes by the clock. Pour into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with melted paraffin. To make a seedless jam, rub the mashed berries through a medium fine strainer, measure the pulp to make four cups and follow the directions just given.

Pineapple Marmalade.

Slice four medium sized ripe pineapples, peel and remove eyes then slice with a fork or a sharp knife through the meat close to the center. If the latter, place a bowl under the chopper to catch the juice that is sure to run out the back end. Slice one orange and one lemon in very thin slices, remove the seeds but do not peel. Put all the fruit together in a large kettle, heat very slowly to the boiling point and cook slowly for 20 minutes. Measure and add three-fourths cup sugar for each cup fruit mixture. Cook all together for 25 to 35 minutes or until thick. Stir frequently to prevent scorching. Pour into sterilized glasses and seal with melted paraffin.

Gosseberry and Currant Jam.

Another combination that is rather unusual and delicious. Remove the stems and tails from gooseberries that are quite ripe. Rinse in cold water, then mash and heat slowly to the boiling point. Measure and add one cup currant juice to each three cups gooseberries, add three-fourths cup sugar to each cup of the mixed fruit. Heat to the boiling point and cook until a little of the mixture jellies, when put on a cold plate. This will take from 25 to 35 minutes. Stir frequently to prevent scorching, and when done pour into hot sterilized glasses and seal with melted paraffin. Makes about 10 glasses. Two cups combined, crushed pineapple. Two cups combined, crushed pineapple may be used instead of fresh if more convenient.

Cherry Jelly.

Three cups juice. Six and one-half cups sugar. One bottle fruit pectin. To prepare juice, stem and crush three pounds fully ripe cherries. Do not pit. Add one-half cup water, bring to a boil, cover and simmer 10 minutes. (For stronger cherry flavor, add one-fourth teaspoon almond extract before pouring.) Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about nine glasses.

Gooseberry Jam.

Four pounds gooseberries. Two cups red currant juice. Three pounds sugar. Remove stems and blossoms from berries. Prepare currant juice as for jelly. Heat sugar and currant juice together to boiling-point, add gooseberries and cook gently about 40 minutes. Set aside overnight, lift berries with skimmer from juice and place in sterilized jars. Boil syrup down about 20 minutes to thicken it, then pour over gooseberries and cover with hot melted paraffin.

COTTAGE CHEESE SANDWICHES

A combination of cottage cheese and any of the following is delicious as sandwich filling with dark bread:

- Olives, pickles, dates, raisins, prunes, green onions, chives, pimientos, horseradish, celery, jelly, apple butter, apricot jam, orange, marmalade, watercress, nuts, green peppers, bacon and thin slices of tomato.

ROACHEEN

HOT WATER SPONGE CAKE

One and one-half cups sifted cake flour. One and one-half teaspoon baking powder. One-half teaspoon salt.

Six egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored.

One-half cup boiling water.

One teaspoon lemon extract.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Add sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Cool. Beat again until mixture thickens. Fold in flour, a small amount at a time, and blend thoroughly. Add lemon extract.

Bake in ungreased tube pan in slow oven 50 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven and invert pan one hour, or until cold.

Here's How!

Take a tall thin glass. Fill it with cracked ice or cubes. Pour freshly made, strong, boiling hot coffee to fill the glass. Add sugar and cream, and if you like, a scant scoop of ice cream. Then begin to enjoy Summer!

MANY FRUITS THROUG MARKETS THIS WEEK

Home-Grown Blackberries, Blueberries and Cherries Included.

The fruit displays are tempting indeed in shop and markets just now with new entries every day.

Missouri cherries, blueberries and blackberries are low in price and very good in quality.

A few crates of apricots from California are the first of the season, coming in Wednesday but prices as yet are rather high.

Honey melon melons are also among the rather limited shipments.

Cantaloupes of the vine-ripened and cool-shipped variety, are delicious in flavor but not very cheap as yet.

Peaches are still not very popular, but larger shipments are expected next week, most of the present supply coming from Arctic.

Apples are more plentiful so that "green apple pie," so dear to masculine taste, should be possible in many homes.

THE MEAT THAT PEPS UP SUMMER APPETITES

There's good reason for serving Beef often during Summer. Dietetic authorities agree that Beef is not only non-heating, but also furnishes the energy we need to withstand the heat. Serve it hot or serve it cold—either way it's good to eat and good for you. To acquaint you with the quality of Kroger and Piggly Wiggly Beef, we are holding a company-wide Meat Sale this week. Your Kroger or Piggly Wiggly Meat Master will be pleased to serve you to your entire satisfaction.

Here's a suggestion your family will greet with glee—

...get a roast for Sunday Dinner (larger than you actually need). The next day slice cold the meat left over for a cooling, delicious cold plate dinner.

VEGETABLE DRYING PROCESS OUTLINED

Fruits Also May Be Put Away for Winter in Same Way.

Now is the time to think about food for next winter—especially the kinds of food that would cost more then. Some part of the garden crops now growing on should be stored, some should be canned. But, unless we lack the cellar space for enough potatoes, cabbage, carrots and apples? Suppose that for all our plentiful garden, we have not the jars or the cans in which to put up enough berries and tomatoes, corn and beans to carry us through the winter? Suppose we do not have a pressure cooker for the vegetables that must be canned at very high temperatures? The cost of the tools to work with sometimes interferes with a canning program.

In that case, says the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, why not provide at least a part of the winter's food by drying some of the fruits and vegetables now coming on? Drying is the very oldest, the simplest, and the cheapest of all methods of preserving perishable foods. It requires very little equipment, not specially made containers, and dried foods require very little storage space.

Process Simple.
The process of drying is merely the removal of the water which forms most of the bulk of fresh

"Convince Yourself!"

You and your Camay Complexion Can Win life's Beauty Contests

All life is a Beauty Contest. If you're dowdy, you lose. If you're pretty, you win—and a Camay complexion can help!

A WONDERFUL thing has happened to Soap—and because of it, something splendid is in store for your complexion.

Camay, the Soap of Beautiful Women, is virtually a "cosmetic" soap—made to order for the delicate feminine skin. The very first cake will convince you that Camay can affect your beauty!

"CONVINCE YOURSELF"

There is not now—and has there ever been before—another soap like Camay.

Camay is a pure, gloriously perfumed, creamy-white soap—the Soap of Beautiful Women.

Wrapped more beautifully, in a modern, smart package—protected more completely, with Cellophane to keep it fresh—Camay is brought to you with more care than any other soap that has ever been made.

"It's a marvelous soap!" one beauty editor said. "Such smooth texture—such fluffy, gentle lather—and its odor is perfectly delightful!"

"In all my experience with fine cosmetics, I've never found such a mild, bland soap to give such profuse and sparkling lather," said a society girl.

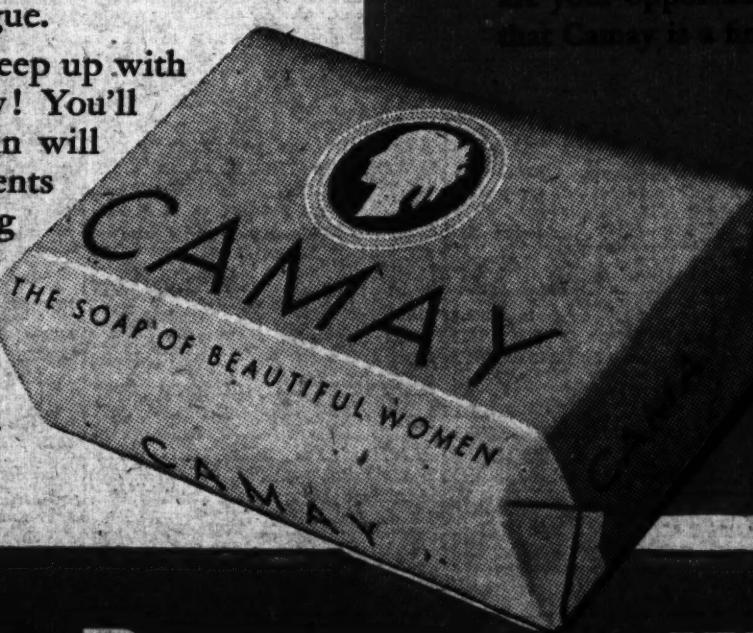

And a young girl, just out of boarding school, had this to say: "Camay is the best soap for keeping the skin clean and fresh of any I've ever used."

Camay is a grand soap. A 1933 soap. A complete and positive victory over older formulas, once the vogue.

Convince yourself! Keep up with the times. Try Camay! You'll look better. Your skin will feel better. Compliments will follow—admiring glances—yes, and even romance.

For all life is a Beauty Contest, and girls with Camay complexions win!

Camay looks simple and feels high-priced. Yet, actually, it costs less than many other well-known brands. A beauty bargain of the year was cast.

Uncle Sam's Last Words
Pegging Our Dollar
Why Pay Six Billions?
Two Ford Anniversaries

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1933.)
FRANCE refuses to pay anything. Poland refuses to pay anything. England instead of $75,000,000 will pay $10,000,000, in silver, and get credit for 50 cents an ounce, although silver is worth only 35 cents. And that is the grand total of our grand "foreign debt-collecting" enterprise.

Uncle Sam must remind himself of the criminal standing on the gallows with the rope around his neck, asked if he had anything to say, and replying, "Yes, I want to say that this will be a lesson to me as long as I live."

Europe is "very sorry" she can't pay what she owes, but is generous with good advice, especially concerning our own money.

Foreign countries will fix a price at which our dollar shall be "pegged" compared with the British pound, and we are quite docile about it.

Meanwhile, England is accumulating more gold and France adds constantly to her supply.

England's gold reserve has risen to 188,245,000 pounds, a good deal of gold.

France has $3,244,000,000 worth of gold in her vaults. These figures help you to understand why those countries cannot pay Uncle Sam what they owe. If they did pay, they wouldn't have as much gold.

Late yesterday afternoon dispatches from London announced that a "pact" had "pegged" the dollar at 84 cents.

If the dollar is worth 84 cents, how much is one cent worth? Who decided how many cents the dollar is worth, how was the deciding done?

The French Government by its own action cut 80 per cent from the value of its franc, cutting it down from a little less than 20 cents to a little less than 4 cents. That made it easy to pay off the French internal debt, and to pay Englishmen that bought French "franc bonds" at the old price.

Americans asked why it is necessary for Europe to fix the value of the American dollar. We had an idea that that value would be fixed by the value of things that the American dollar can buy.

The United States is about to spend $3,000,000,000 on public works. It will pay workers and contractors in currency. Those buying the bonds that it is proposed to issue will all be paid in UNITED STATES CURRENCY. That currency will bear the Government's name, and be just as good as Government bonds, which also will have "the Government's name" on them.

Why the Government should insist on issuing bonds and paying interest, for the pleasure of using its own currency to pay its own bills, may be plain to the wizards of "high finance," but it is a profound puzzle to the average American.

If the country issues three billions of bonds and pays 4 per cent interest for a period of 25 years it will have to pay six billion dollars principal and interest, to get three billion dollars worth of work done.

High finance tells you "it is necessary to issue bonds and pay interest to help the Government's credit record."

Does it help the Government's credit to pay our six billions, loading that weight on the backs of taxpayers, instead of paying three billions in currency, as the work progresses and rating that currency without interest, just as the bonds would be retired?

Does it help the Government's credit to pay our six billions, loading the weight on the backs of taxpayers instead of paying three billions in currency, as the work progresses and retiring that currency without interest, just as the bonds would be retired?

Rebidding After a Four-
No-Trump Response

When you have bid one, no trump and your partner bids four no trumps, you have an ideal situation for bidding any suit that is considered biddable. Having three and a half in your hand, the question is not whether to slam, but whether to slam in a suit or no trumps. If you have a concealed suit of five or more cards, bid it in that suit. It definitely knows as of five or more cards. You know your partner has at least the queen in it, so that this suit is now presumably solid, assuming that you lacked only one of the top three honors. Responder would now pass his distribution. You cannot expect him to bid seven, as he has probably bid everything in his hand when he said four no trumps.

When opener bids a four-round suit headed by two of the top three honors, bid five in that suit, leaving it to his partner to bid six in the suit or in no trumps. The same consideration applies as if the bidding had been one no trump, three no trumps, four in a suit. The opening bidder, however, has a little additional information about his partner's hand—he knows that there are in it three and a half primary tricks, some filler, and at least a queen, even the weakest suit holding. Consequently, if opener bids four-four-three-two distribution and responder raises his suit, he may be able to bid for a grand slam in the suit, expecting no need to finesse, whereas if the hand had to be played in no trumps, the contract should not go beyond six, because a finesse would appear inevitable. This decision for grand slam is naturally contingent on the absolute knowledge that there can be no ace against which the opening bidder has bid grand slam in no trumps, opener must be able to name every necessary high card in responder's hand and expect that no finesse will be needed. This can hardly be the case unless he himself has four primary tricks. If all the aces are assured, possession of concealed suit length obviates all considerations of intermediates or finesse in any of the other three suits. This should be rendered unnecessary when you have a solid five or six card suit to work with, and really the only factor now involved is whether you can be sure that there is no ace against you.

Grand Slam Situations.

I have written so fully about these short-suit developments as part of no-trump slam tries that I feel no further examples are required of small slam bidding by way of short suits. However, grand slams are now more important than ever, and I will give you some examples to illustrate this process of visualization, or perhaps one should call it plain deduction, because it is more arithmetical in function than imaginative.

Sp. K. J. Z. Cl. A. K. J. Z.

This is a nice hand on which to bid a no-trump rather than a club. Your partner bids four no trumps. What do you now know about his hand?

First. In clubs he has the queen and one or two small ones, but no half tricks.

Second. In diamonds he has at most a trick, i.e., king-queen.

Third. Therefore he must have ace-queen and ace in the major suits to make up three and a half primary tricks. He may have ace-queen in both of them, but only the king of diamonds.

Thus you have 12 top tricks, and you have to bid against a mincing dealer. Count her as one dead. If your partner's four-round suit clears up, you can throw your hand in the suit which lacks the queen on his thirteen. Failing that, you can lead out all your clubs and get a line on which way to finesse against that queen, possibly squeezing out the queen or the fourth card of your partner's suit which failed to set up. Again, the opening lead will be from a worthless holding and may well kill the queen in the hand of the leader's partner. If all else fails, there will still be a finesse. Bid seven no trumps over the four-no-trump response. Change your distribution to and seven clubs would be the right bid. You do not need the fourth queen now. In match-point scoring, your partner could still bid seven no trumps to go after the maximum score, but in rubber play he should pass. Change either of your major suit kings into a queen and your bid would be six instead of seven in each case. The four-primary-trick hands as given above have in reserve not only a half primary trick, but also suit length, and the decision for grand slam must be taken by the opening bidder without further reference to his partner, who would necessarily pass any bid of six.

AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Science puts the rights of organized society above the rights of individuals.

1. —No, they struggle to get ahead particular desire to rise above some one person who is higher.

2. —No, because throughout the ages the little things, such as the symbol of love, has become to woman the greater duty. It is one of the hardest things in life to choose between loyalties. It comes up in every family and every organization. And the dearer the friend the harder the problem, but the birthday remembrance, if you can fix up a misunderstanding, it may be easily solved.

A woman does not gray the stage of her life by sending her a case of canned goods, or a ham, or having the plumbing repaired. But it is a pretty serious quarrel that a half a dozen roses will not settle.

3. —This is a big question and is the theme of John Galsworthy's great play, "Loyalties." Shall a man be loyal to his friend or to his group? The clear inference Galsworthy draws is that loyalty to the symbol of love. A husband orders coal, the groceries, etc., as mere routine, but the birthday remembrance, well, that takes remembrance. Imagine, if you can fix up a misunderstanding, it may be easily solved.

A woman does not gray the stage of her life by sending her a case of canned goods, or a ham, or having the plumbing repaired. But it is a pretty serious quarrel that a half a dozen roses will not settle.

HEALTH

Brief articles prepared by experts. Edited by Dr. Iago Goldstein, for the New York Academy of Medicine.

Fever in Children

0 NEARLY encounters children and infants in whom there is a slight, continuous elevation of temperature. To interpret this condition may require all the resources of medical science and all the ingenuity of its practitioners.

There is a certain type of child in whom a disturbance in temperature is provoked on the very least occasion. These children belong to the so-called vasculable constitution type. They are, however, relatively rare.

Hence, when one encounters a child with a habitual hyperthermia, that is, a habitual elevation of temperature, it is important to rule out all possible foci of infection.

Among such foci of infection must be included such disease conditions as mild tuberculosis, chronic catarrh or inflammations of the nose, throat and gums, infections of the ears and of the sinuses, infections of the kidneys and of the urinary system, and rheumatic fever with possible involvement of the heart.

Children may run an elevated temperature for weeks or months following certain infectious diseases.

It may be seen from the foregoing that such a process of elimination as is suggested would require very careful medical search, including numerous laboratory aids.

In the progress of such a search it may be necessary to make laboratory examinations of the blood, the urine and the stools.

The child may require a tuberculin test and an X-ray of the lungs and of the head sinuses.

Certain functional conditions and certain hygienic and dietary practices may also cause temporary elevation of a child's temperature. Thus, it is known that constant over-feeding may cause a hyperthermia.

External factors, such as hot weather, increased humidity and warm clothing or a warm bath may cause a rise in body temperature. In infancy excessive thirst or excessive intake of salt may also produce fever. Vigorous muscular activity will raise body temperature.

Thus you have 12 top tricks, and you have to bid against a mincing dealer. Count her as one dead. If your partner's four-round suit clears up, you can throw your hand in the suit which lacks the queen on his thirteen. Failing that, you can lead out all your clubs and get a line on which way to finesse against that queen, possibly squeezing out the queen or the fourth card of your partner's suit which failed to set up. and seven clubs would be the right bid. You do not need the fourth queen now. EVERYDAY RELIGION

Fighting Fear

By THE REV. JOSEPH FORT NEWTON

SOME years ago a young physician in St. Louis died at the age of 30. Soon after he began his medical studies he suspected that something was wrong with him.

Later a careful examination by a specialist confirmed his suspicion. It was told that his disease was incurable and that he would die in great pain.

Most of us, however, would have seen such a sentence, would have been utterly frustrated, if not frightened. Some might have considered suicide, as so many do today. Others of us would have dropped our medical studies and enjoyed the little time left us. All of us would have been terribly stunned by so untoward a fate. Not so the young physician. He did not rage. He did not whine. He did not even complain.

In the end, courage is the only security and the root of every virtue. Fifty men can be lost in justice and death hidden by tenderness or tact; only courage endures and never betrays us. The body may sicken, but the heroic spirit triumphs. A brave man may blunder, but not irretrievably. Or if, worn out, he falls, he falls alone. Only a coward fears others down in his ruin.

Answer: Whether you have an engagement ring or not concerns no one but you, and has nothing whatsoever to do with anything you engage in. A wedding ring is actually part of the marriage service, but an engagement ring has never (I imagine) been produced from John's pocket the moment Mary says "I will," except in silent motion pictures. The only exacting concerning an engagement ring is that it be not worn—in public—until the engagement is announced, but there is no rule saying that an engagement ring must be worn, and certainly none that it must be displayed. I could name a score of brides who had no engagement rings. Many others wear a wedding ring, but not an engagement ring—later worn with the wedding ring. In this day, especially, I think you were very wise to do what you do—it is essential that you have furniture, but you need not have a diamond ring.

In the end, courage is the only security and the root of every virtue. Fifty men can be lost in justice and death hidden by tenderness or tact; only courage endures and never betrays us. The body may sicken, but the heroic spirit triumphs. A brave man may blunder, but not irretrievably. Or if, worn out, he falls, he falls alone. Only a coward fears others down in his ruin.

Answer: Whether you have an engagement ring or not concerns no one but you, and has nothing whatsoever to do with anything you engage in. A wedding ring is actually part of the marriage service, but an engagement ring has never (I imagine) been produced from John's pocket the moment Mary says "I will," except in silent motion pictures. DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN
" by " Mary Graham Bonner

Seeking the Thief
HEN Jelly Bear had gone to the party, he had noticed a little opening between two rocks in the cave which he never had seen before. "I have an idea," he growled softly to himself, "that the silver might be hidden there. The thief probably had a good look around to see where he could hide it before stealing it, and he hid behind the cave until we had left."

Having thought this all out he was indeed disappointed not to find the silver there when he went and looked. So he walked around to all the hills and sniffed the scents that came with the breezes, but not a strange scent could he detect.

In the meantime Top Notch had gone down to the nearest farm. He was greeted cordially by all the Hens and Roosters and barnyard animals.

"I have not come to pay a social call, cock-a-doodle-do," crowed Top Notch importantly, "but to see if any of you could help me. A thief has visited our dear Puddle Muddle, and its Mayor, and its detective I want to know what I can do."

"Tell us more," they urged. They felt very superior in having such an important friends as Top Notch, and at once he told them what had occurred.

"Have you seen any strangers, or have you had an, thefts around here?" Top Notch asked.

They all cracked "No," and then as Top Notch was about to leave, one old Gray Rooster had something to say he felt was very important.

"Tintex is just as simple as A-B-C!"

With this you can serve crackers, Swedish wafers (sweet, crisp and wittered), a soft cheese sandwich or hot rolls. With ice cream and coffee added as dessert (or any kind you like) you have a whole meal.

For Sunday night supper, a plate of mixed sandwiches (perhaps tomato juice to start the meal), and a fruit cup, should be enough. Cottage cheese with chives and ground nuts makes a good, substantial sandwich; on rye or graham bread, preferably. And cottage cheese, pineapple and nuts are used for filling.

Grated raw carrots, French dressing, cold tongue, potato salad and ripe olives on lettuce, makes a good plate lunch.

Fresh strawberry or peach ice cream or peppermint stick are always appreciated in a home meal, because it is hard to buy any of these at a caterer's. And watch the food section of the Post-Dispatch each Friday.

Dear Martha Carr:

I ENJOY your column very much. I would like to ask a favor of you. Will you please tell me to whom I should write in regard to my getting Government employment? I should like to join the women groups for planting trees.

Horoscope for Saturday

OUT OF WORK.

You will find a Government Employment Bureau in the dome of the Post-Office building at Eighth and Olive streets. Very much would depend upon what kind of employment you wished and whether or not you wished to take a Civil Service examination. You will find out about this in the same building. (See director on the first floor.)

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I have thought that home-tinting is a messy, uncertain affair, it's because you have never used Tintex.

Nothing in the world could be simpler or quicker than Tintex. "Tint as you rinse." That's the whole story in four words. And results! Only professional work can equal them.

Tintex has taken the muss and fuss, the streaks and spots, right out of home-tinting. Indeed, it's fun to use Tintex—to see it restore original colors—or give new colors—to faded "undies", sportswear, dresses, stockings, etc. And what a color-range Tintex offers you. 35 brilliant, long-lasting colors from which to choose!

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION
by MARTHA CARR

My dear Mrs. Carr:
THERE is a problem, I think, which is facing all housewives at this time of year. Can you suggest, or tell me where I can find suggestions, for what weather menu? It is almost unbearable to have to sit down to a hot meal and yet what can we eat that will give us all the necessary food values and properties? We are accustomed to eating a full meal at night; in salad, soup, meat, some starch, vegetables, some green vegetable and dessert. What cold dishes or dish can we have that will take the place of all this? I will appreciate any suggestions very much.

MRS. J. M.

If you do not happen to know "Chicken Isabella," you should try some time. This is a delicious dish and supplies almost everything needed for a supper or even a dinner, except dessert.

You make a jelled bouillon or consomme and set it on the ice to get very cold. You mix your rice soup and set that in the icebox to chill. And be sure to chill your plates. You can use fresh or canned asparagus, but cold also.

When ready to serve, make a bed of rice, lay on this a slice of cold chicken, topped by sticks of asparagus and a slice of tomato. Over this use mayonnaise dressing, and when everything else is ready get out your bouillon jelly, cut in cubes and make a ring around the outside. You can have a whole meal.

There are all sorts of outside activities—possibly civic or charity work if you are not able to go in for some of the sports.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

WILL write this letter just to let you know how much I appreciate for what you did for me. And I also thank the ones who helped me, through you; however, I am sure you will be happy to know that some day I may be able to help someone else.

As one of the suits and two pairs of the pants were too large for me, I gave them to a crippled man who needed them badly.

Thanks, Mrs. Carr, and success to you and your column. E. P.

All NICE MEN Are MARRIED

By VIDA HURST

CHAPTER FIVE.

If he had expected Janice to be alarmed Terry was to be disappointed.

Without lifting her voice, she said quietly, "Kid stuff, Terry! I graduated from that long ago. I'll be 27 years old tomorrow."

His astonishment both at her news and behavior was evident.

"How old did you think I was?" Janice demanded.

"I should have known you were older than you look to hold such a responsible position at the bank," Terry admitted. "But after all, what does your age have to do with it? I'm 27 myself."

"You don't act it," Janice reminded him with unruffled composure. "I'm not the little Nell you seem to think," she continued placidly, "but if you don't mind, I'd do my kissing when and where I please."

Terry was as quick to see his mistake as he had been to make it. He started the car, saying lightly, "I'm sorry! My error. All of us make 'em, you know."

He shot her a glance from mischievous eyes.

"No hard feelings?"

"Not this time. You've been much too amusing to hold one mistake against you."

"I don't care for that word amusing," he objected. "Sounds like a monkey dancing about on a string."

"But I adore monkeys."

SPONTANEOUS laughter broke the tension between them then. Terry said quickly, "I enjoy you, Janice! Wouldn't have missed knowing you for anything. Will you let me see you again some time?"

"In the bank every day from 9 to 4."

"Darn it, I mean really," he cried eagerly. "You're the first girl I've met for years who knows how to take a joke."

Janice smiled. The girl who took Jerry Adams as anything else would certainly be a prize idiot.

He left her at her apartment hotel and Janice went inside feeling as if she had been away for weeks instead of just over the weekend.

The windows were closed and the air was stuffy. The roses Arthur had sent her on Sunday still drooped in a bowl on the desk but when she touched them the petals fell in a soft shower leaving the bare stems ugly and full of thorns.

The symbolism did not escape Janice, but she was able to smile at it. A week ago she had sat with Arthur for over an hour discussing love and marriage. Tonight he had probably not given her a thought. Tonight he was basking in the renewed devotion of "one of the finest girls in the world," who had now returned from visiting her parents.

Janice dumped the dead flowers into the waste basket and opened the window to the languid July night. But as she stood looking down at the lights and the dark waving tops of trees, she was thinking of neither Arthur nor Terry.

"If I had only married Lewis," she sighed as she had almost every night for seven years. "We could have been so happy."

If only she hadn't stopped to go into business. Or if Lewis had come to work in Kansas City instead of going back to his home in St. Louis.

They hadn't been really engaged. It was just a sort of an understanding but the same kind of thing which between many of their friends had ripened into marriage. Phyllis and Jim Stewart had been their best friends and had married immediately after commencement and gone to live in Chicago.

"I wonder if Lewis has married anyone else," Janice thought as she undressed. "I'd like to write and ask him. Dear Lewis—are you married yet? If not, look me up the next time you come to Kansas City."

THAT was a dumb idea! Calculated to kill any faint interest which might still remain for a college sweetheart.

Oh, well, she'd probably never see him again. She'd probably live and die without knowing if he had cared as much as she imagined.

Some romantic fancies had not been permitted to disturb the mind of Miss Janice Meade on Tuesday morning, however. Dressed in cool green and white cotton frock with fresh white gloves and shoes, she entered the building which was as familiar to her now as her father's small bank at Craig.

It was Carl Meade's connections which had secured her original position, but it was hard work and careful, unflagging determination which had won her present place of responsibility in the investment department.

Janice had had her share of worry and discouragement. Had met defeat and known the agony of submitting to the carpings of authority of an inferior, but that was past. She had her own desk with a card on it marked "MISS MEADE."

She had a regular list of customers who asked her opinion before investing a dollar, as well as the reckless scous who, having risked their savings against her advice, came to her for comfort in the face of a rapidly falling market.

There was a thrill to it, too,

Hat, dress and gloves are of brown linen, while the shoes are white buck trimmed with brown buck. The bag is brown calf.

This festive costume is for hotel dining and dancing. It is of white lace with a matching jacket and is not only smart but practical, as it will not wrinkle. The sleeves of the jacket, which are short and bell-shaped, have an under ruffle and an upper one of pleated white chiffon. A bouquet of bright flowers adds a touch of color to the costume. The hat is of stitched organdie.

Black linen will prove a joy at the Fair and besides, it is one of the summer's smartest suit fabrics. This one includes a white linen blouse. A new note in accessories is a boutonniere which clips on the lapel. The hat of white felt is trimmed with a band of black and white check. Black and white shoes, white linen gloves and a white purse complete the costume.

Material Rewards

IT is true that one gets further with children by rewarding them for good behavior than by punishing them for bad. But rewards can be over used and rendered ineffective only somewhat less quickly than punishment.

"Thank you, Jay!"

"That's evident from the way you always come back to it. It's never blue Monday with you, is it?"

"It isn't any kind of a Monday, Jay. That's Tuesday."

"Promise?" Janice asked a trifle vaguely. "Oh, no! Certainly not. You are going to make me do it again."

"I love my work," she reminded him happily.

"Promise?" Janice asked a trifle vaguely. "Oh, no! Certainly not. You are going to make me do it again."

"I love my work," she reminded him happily.

"That's evident from the way you always come back to it. It's never blue Monday with you, is it?"

GERMAN WITHDRAWS
PLEA FOR TERRITORY

His Colleagues Say Dr. Hu-genberg's Memorandum in No Wise Represents the Opinion of Berlin Delegation.

by the Associated Press
LONDON, June 16.—It was announced today that American suggestions to the world economic conference include:

A general 10 per cent reduction in tariffs.
A continuation of the Roosevelt tariff truce.

Bilateral trade agreements.
Compensation and clearance agreements.

It was pointed out in American quarters that these were merely suggestions or topics for consideration.

The economic commission of the conference is expected to deal chiefly with tariffs. Premier Colijn of the Netherlands is chairman of this commission.

The American suggestions were made after Prime Minister Mac-Donald of Great Britain, chairman of the conference, asked the various delegations to file briefs to assist in working up the agenda of the different commissions.

Getting Ready for Monday.
Work in preparation for Monday's commission sessions continued at conference headquarters today, but most of the business was suspended and the Geological Museum where the meetings are being held was given over to cleaners this morning.

All the delegates and experts and members of their parties cast aside their labors to attend a garden party given them by King George and Queen Mary at Windsor Castle.
As a preliminary to the party,
Prime Minister MacDonald entreated at luncheon at Chequers Secyetary of State and Mrs. Cordell Hull, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Cox and Senator Key Pittman of the American delegation, and S. M.
Bruce, Australian Minister to England, and Mrs. Bruce.

Conference headquarters, meanwhile, announced the 14 more nations had accepted President Roosevelt's tariff truce, making a total of 33 adherents so far. New members are Bolivia, Chile, the Dominican Republic, Greece, Guatemala, Iceland, Paraguay, Peru, Turkey, Poland, Portugal, Spain, Uruguay.

Hugenberg Withdraws Memo.
As a result of premature publicity, Dr. Alfred Hugenberg of Germany has suspended action on his appeal that Germany be given more "space in which to live"— other an empire in Africa or other colonial territory.

The German memorandum delivered to the secretariat of the conference for distribution among the delegates, but before it could be handed out it was published in the press throughout the world, much to the surprise and consternation of Dr. Hugenberg, who had not authorized its publication. As a result, he has asked the conference to postpone distribution of the memorandum.

The German delegation announced today that Hugenberg was merely expressing a private opinion yesterday when he presented the memorandum. The memorandum in no wise conformed with the views of the German delegation, the Germans informed Chairman
Colijn of the economic commission.

It was learned that Hugenberg was leaving tonight for Berlin head of Economic Commission Issues Revised Agenda.

Premier Hendrik Colijn, head of the economic commission and member of the secretariat, today issued the commission's revised agenda. It

SENSE and NONSENSE
By CAREY WILLIAMS

THINGS are improving. People are beginning to remove their bills from the envelopes.

The Indian language has no swear words in it. But it wasn't necessary as the Indians didn't play golf.

The next war, according to Marconi, will be fought by radio. The crooners should be our first line of defense.

Scientists who are striving to attain absolute zero might examine our bank account.

Instead of leaving their foot-prints on the sands of time, most men prefer to leave their tire tread on the path to the country club.

The human brain is an electric dynamo, says a scientist. Possibly that is why so many people get their wires crossed.

The life of a dollar bill is about eight months. Maybe the reason they don't last longer is because people are always trying to stretch every dollar to the utmost.
